THE ADVENTURES OF

Joe Puma

LITTLE JOE GETS A HIGHER EDUCATION IN COLLEGEVILLE INDIANA . . .

The Story Begins in September, 1939

Four years ago when "Little Joe" walked onto the St. Joseph's campus for the first time, he was little aware of the many adventures, experiences, and surprises in store for him. Mingled feelings of joy, wonder, awe, and fear expressed themselves at the sight of the spacious and beautiful campus before him.

Though a typical "green" freshman, our friend soon became a "regular" fellow after his initiation and "dunking" in the lake. With the meeting of countless new friends from far and near, he gradually adjusted himself to this new environment. Still a little confused and bewildered by all that was happening, "Little Joe" finally settled down to the daily routine of clases and activities.

That first year was truly a memorable one. Having become such a rabid Puma fan and St. Joe man, our friend was promptly dubbed "Little Joe." That year too saw the completion of Seifert Hall.

Then, as a wise sophomore he watched the college grow around him as two new residence halls, Noll and Xavier, were constructed. No longer new to college life, "Little Joe" had more time to devote to extra-curricular activities. The Spring Formal, with Art Kassel's orchestra, provided the thrill of the year.

JOE

The Happy Ending Came in May, 1943

Two years had passed and "Little Joe", now a proud junior, began to specialize in some chosen field of study.

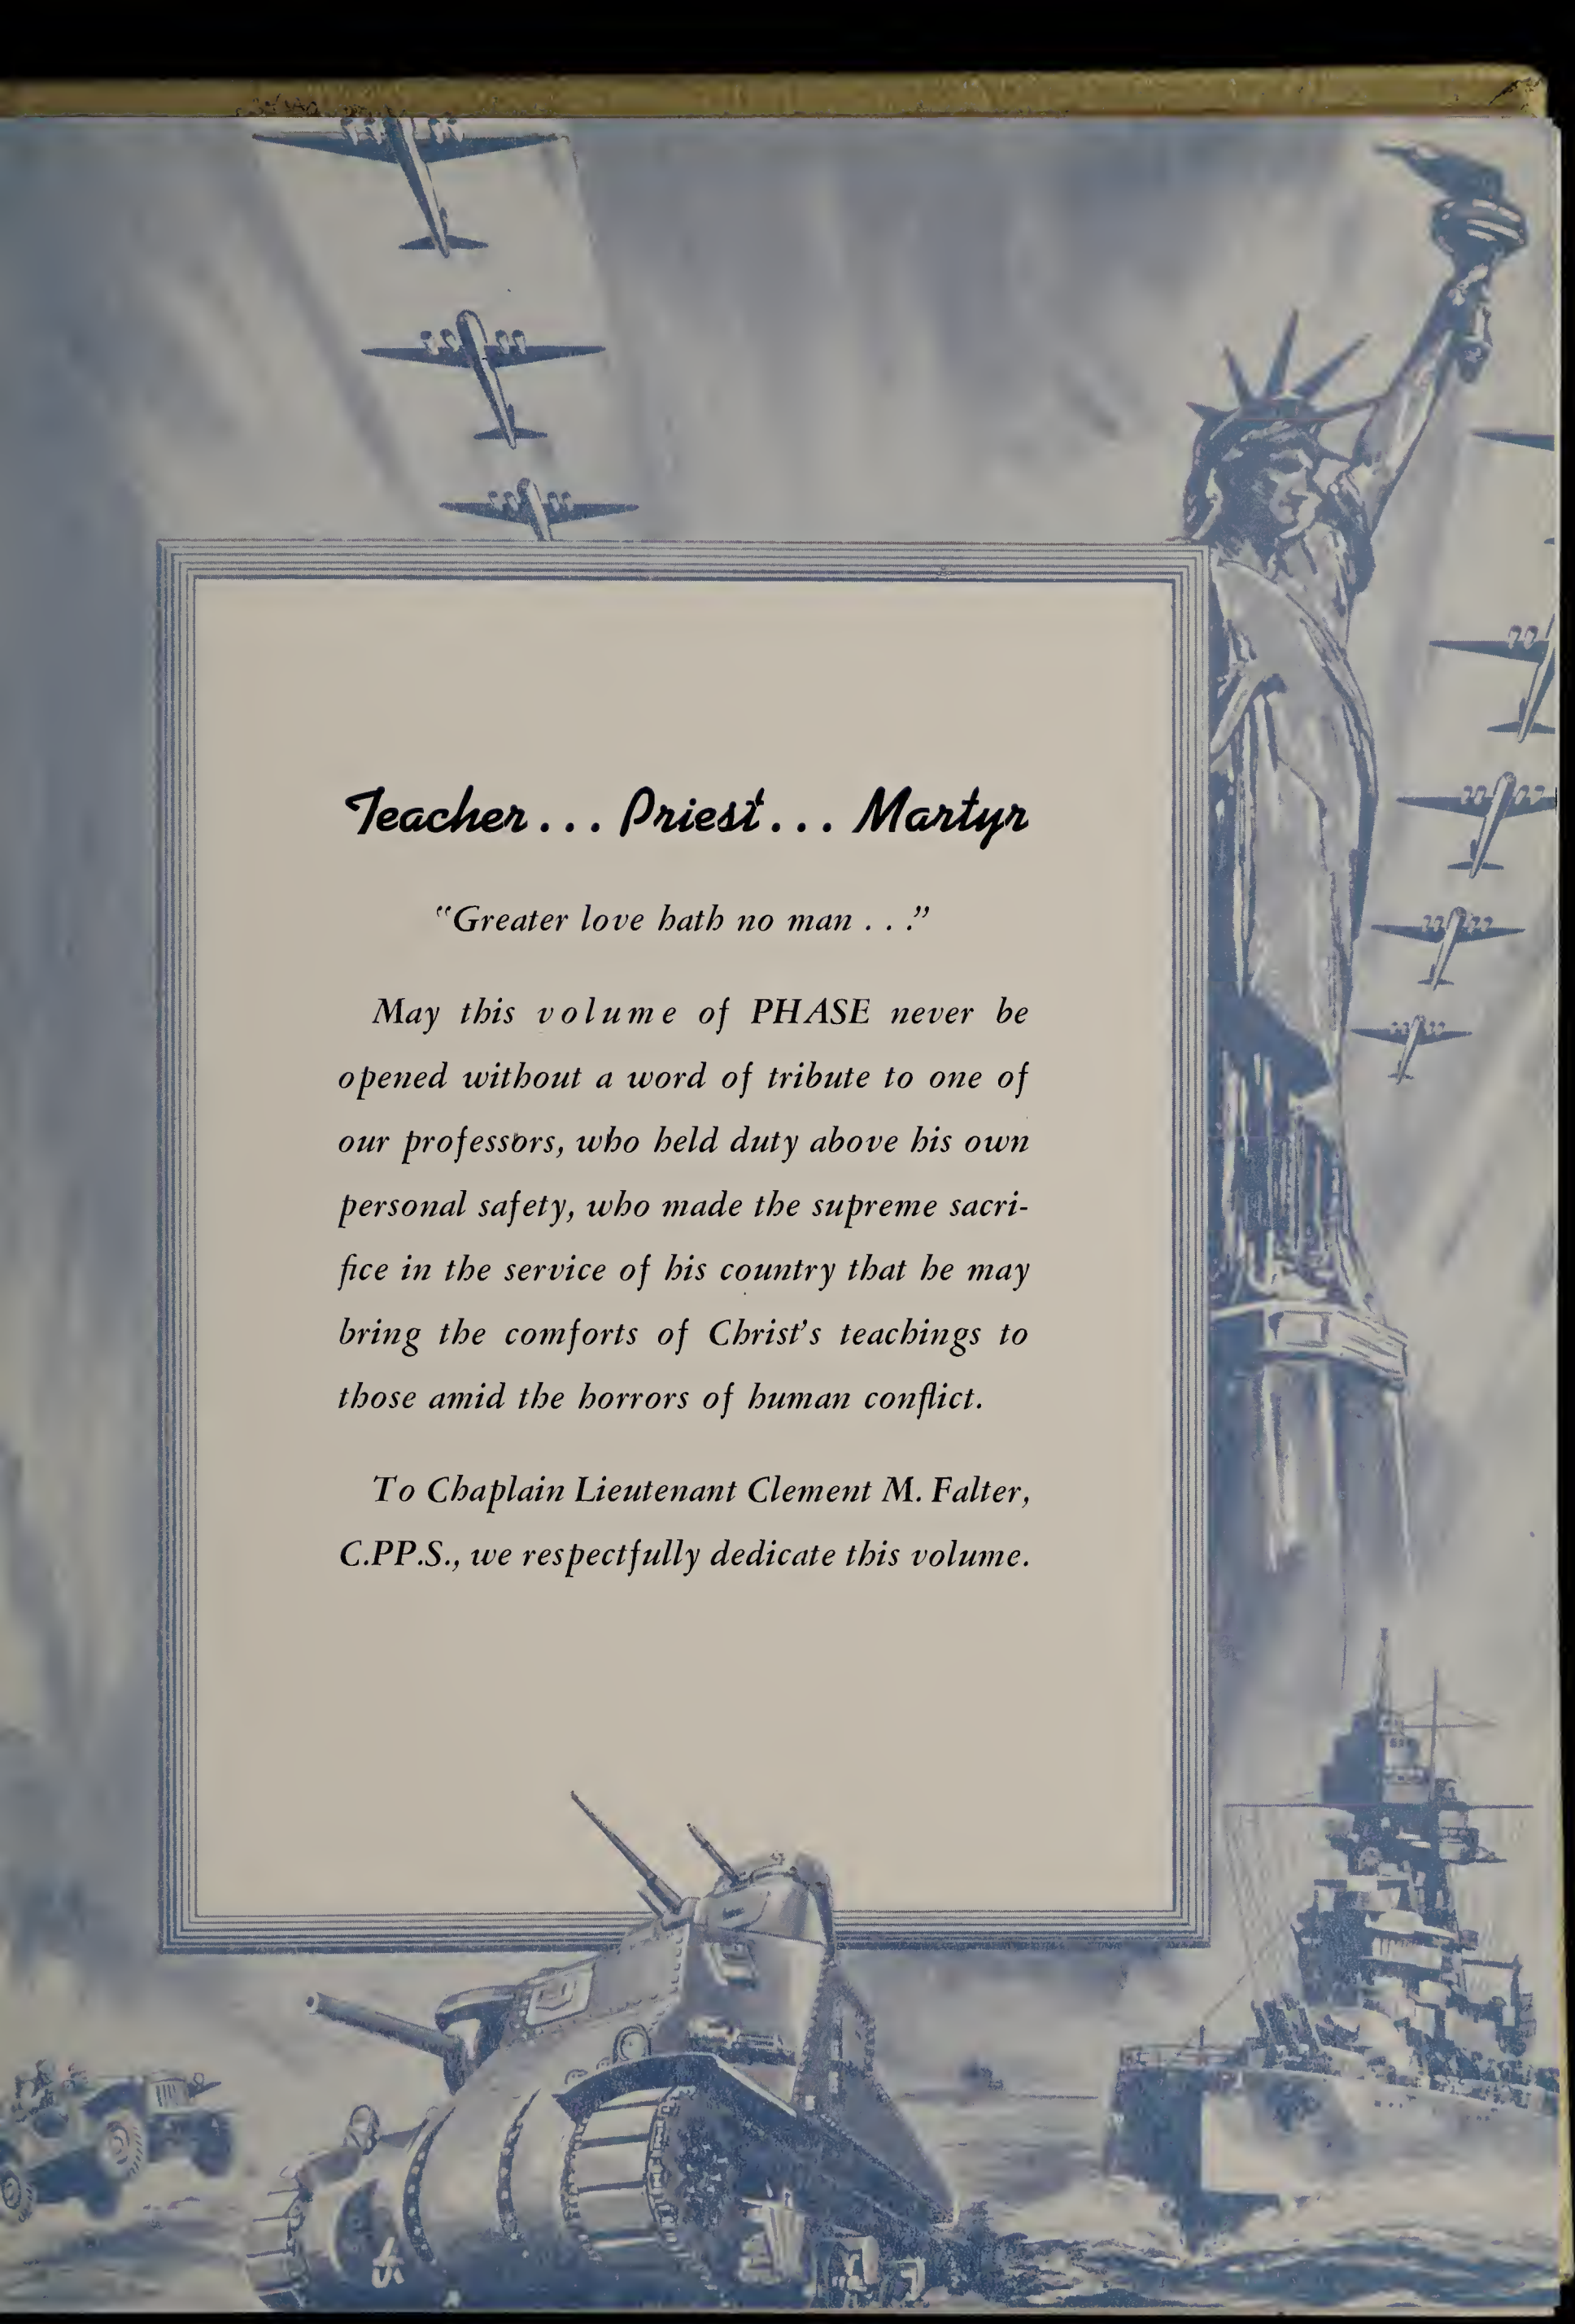

The year proved an eventful one as the football team registered an undefeated season. Soon after, followed the dedication of the new fieldhouse. Then, the war clouds, that had been threatening ever since "Little Joe" first came to school, finally broke as bombs rained on Pearl Harbor. Almost immediately the school went on a war time basis in accelerating the education program.

Returning for his final year, "Little Joe" was sad to learn that many of his former friends had not returned. Enlisted in a reserve branch of the armed services, he was given the opportunity of finishing his formal education.

Winning consistently, the Puma gridders again went undefeated. To add to the prestige gained, "Little Joe" and several classmates were selected as the first seniors ever to represent the school in the "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities".

Being a dignified senior, "Little Joe" proudly sported his new class ring and displayed his graduation pictures. Having hurdled the final obstacle of a thesis, he now silently awaits commencement day and his eventual call to active duty.

"Greater love hath no man . . ."

May this volume of PHASE never be opened without a word of tribute to one of our professors, who held duty above his own personal safety, who made the supreme sacrifice in the service of his country that he may bring the comforts of Christ's teachings to those amid the horrors of human conflict.

To Chaplain Lieutenant Clement M. Falter, C.PP.S., we respectfully dedicate this volume.

Joe Studied a Variety of Courses

Religion, Philosophy, English Form Basis of His Education

In this section are shown views of the various classes available for the student of St. Joseph's. These are "behind the scene" pictures of young men at work; going about the business of acquiring a sound general cultural education.

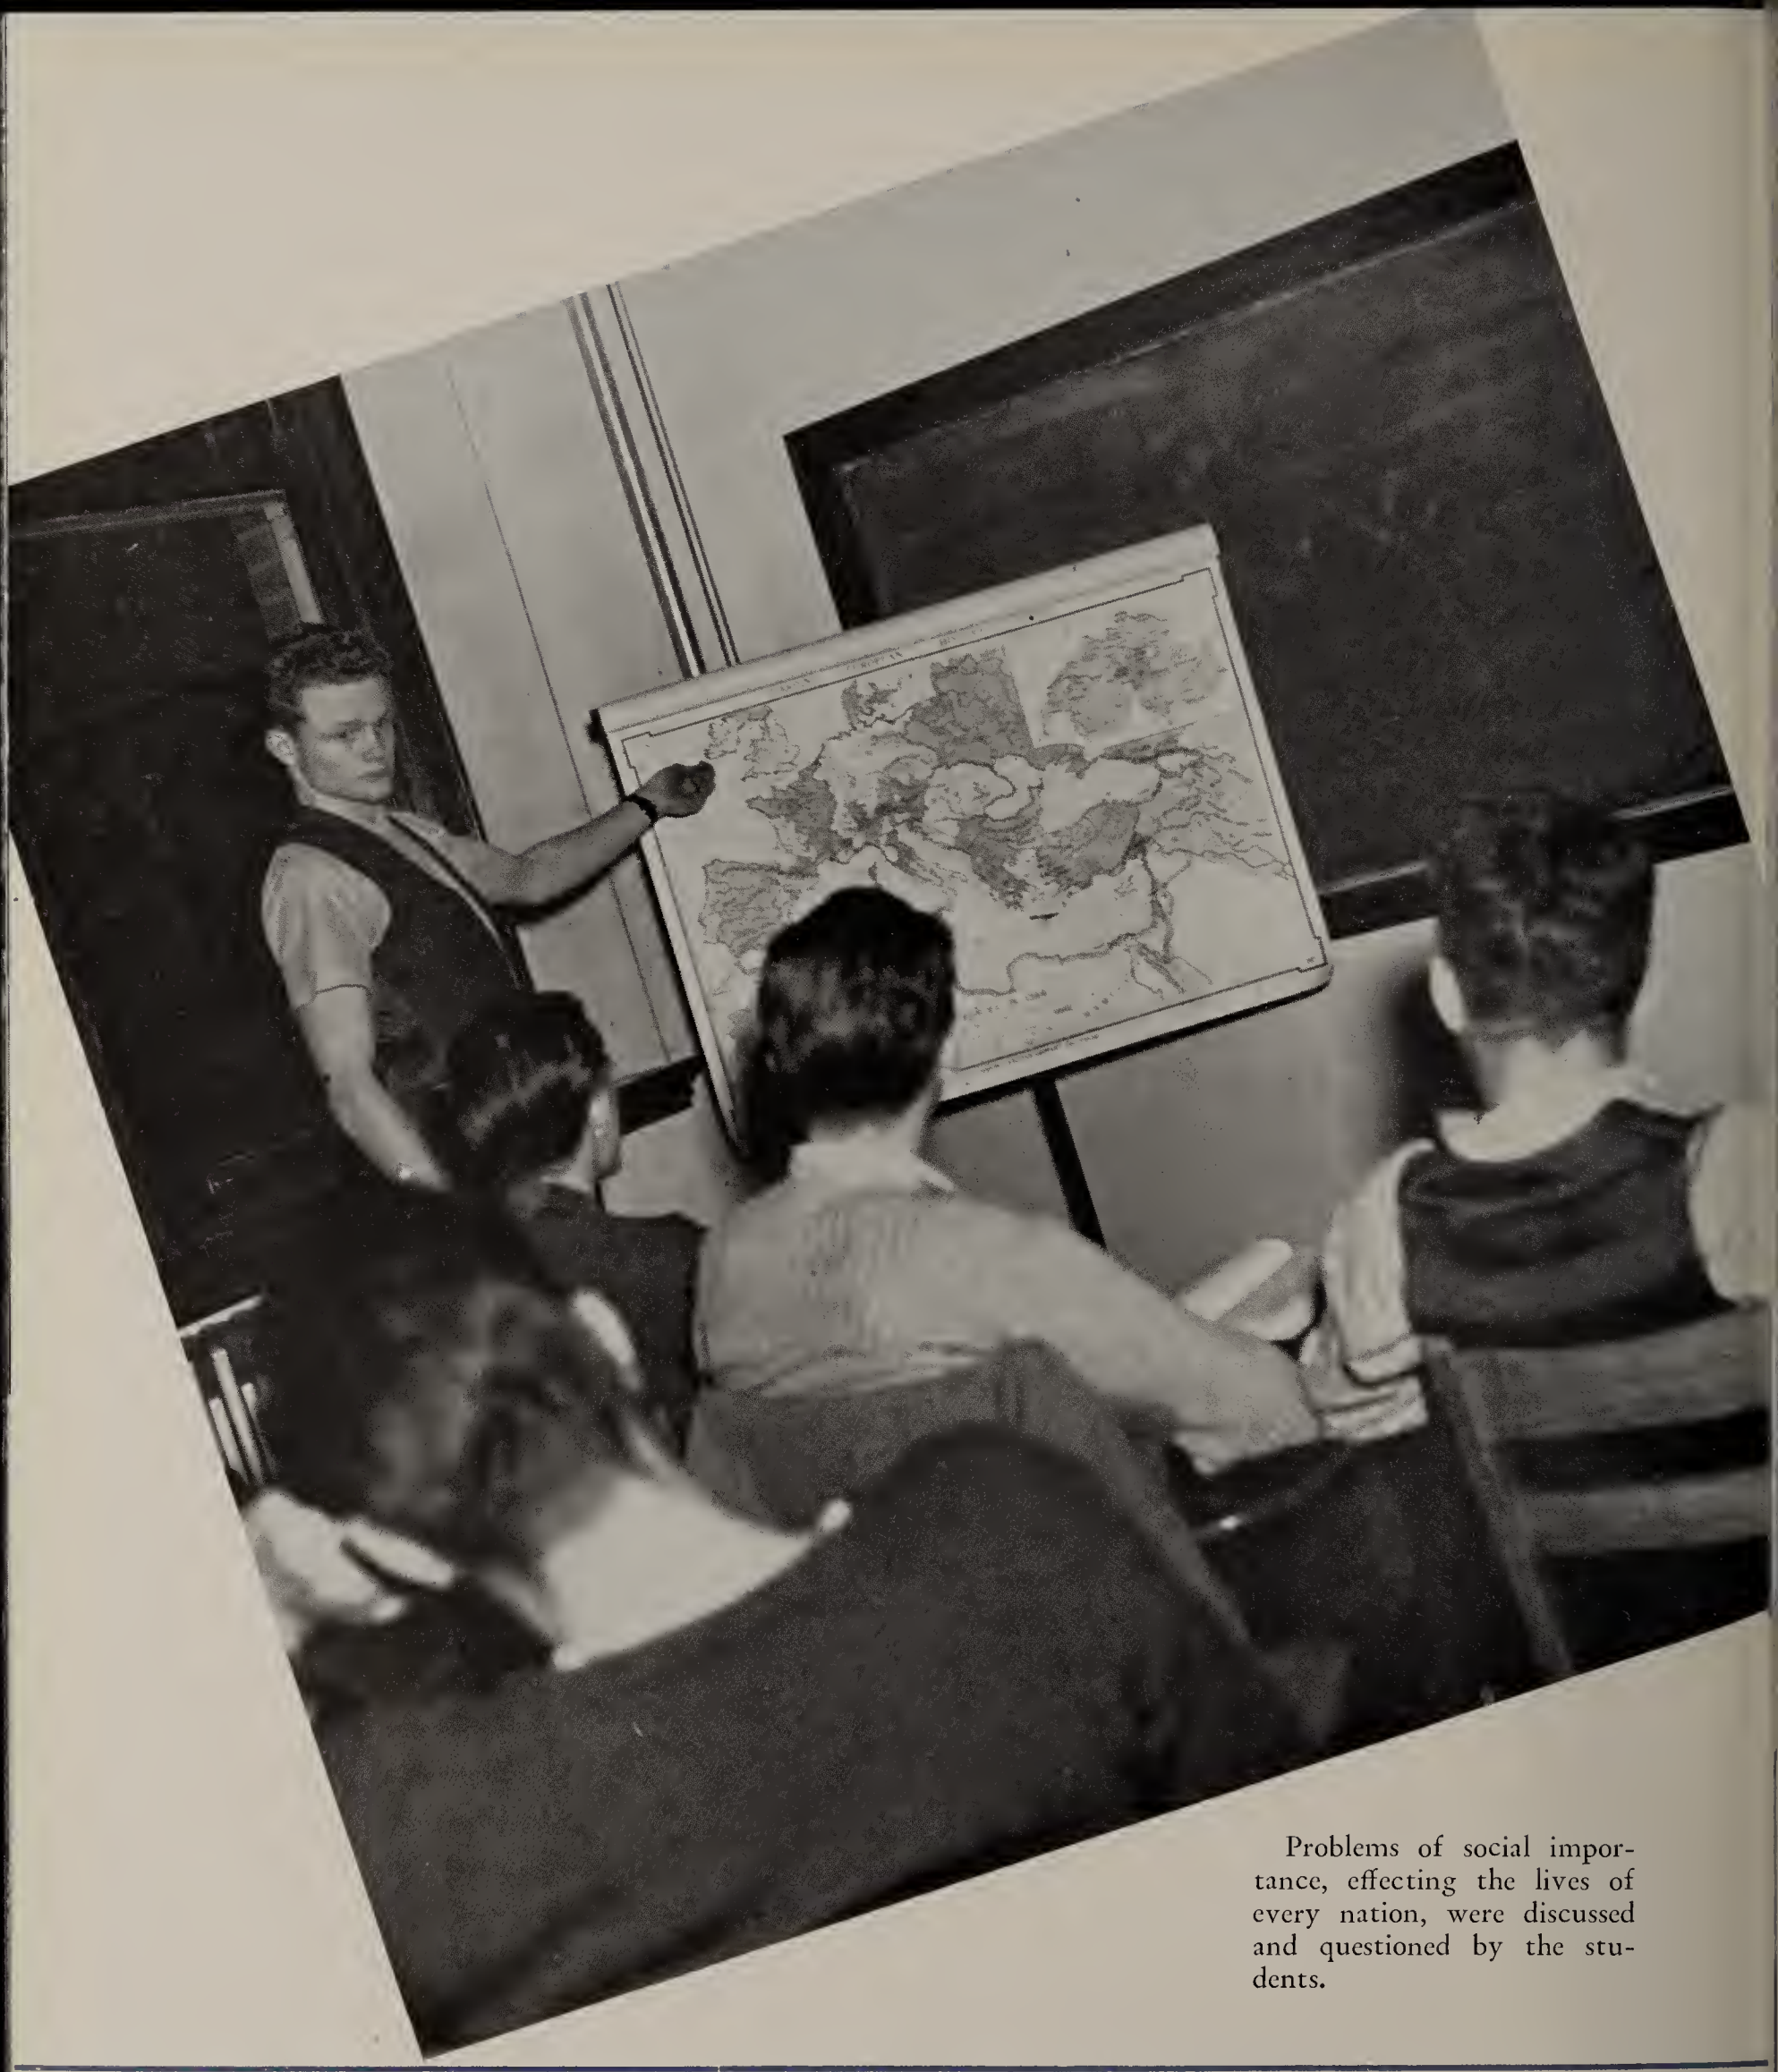

Individual attention and informality are perhaps the most striking characteristics of the typical classroom. All classes are small in size, affording more freedom for the individual desiring a close professor-student relationship.

Foreign culture is studied in Classical and modern Languages.

An emphasis is placed upon English grammar and literature.

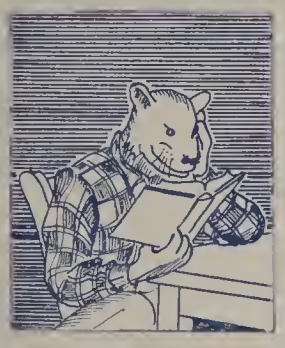

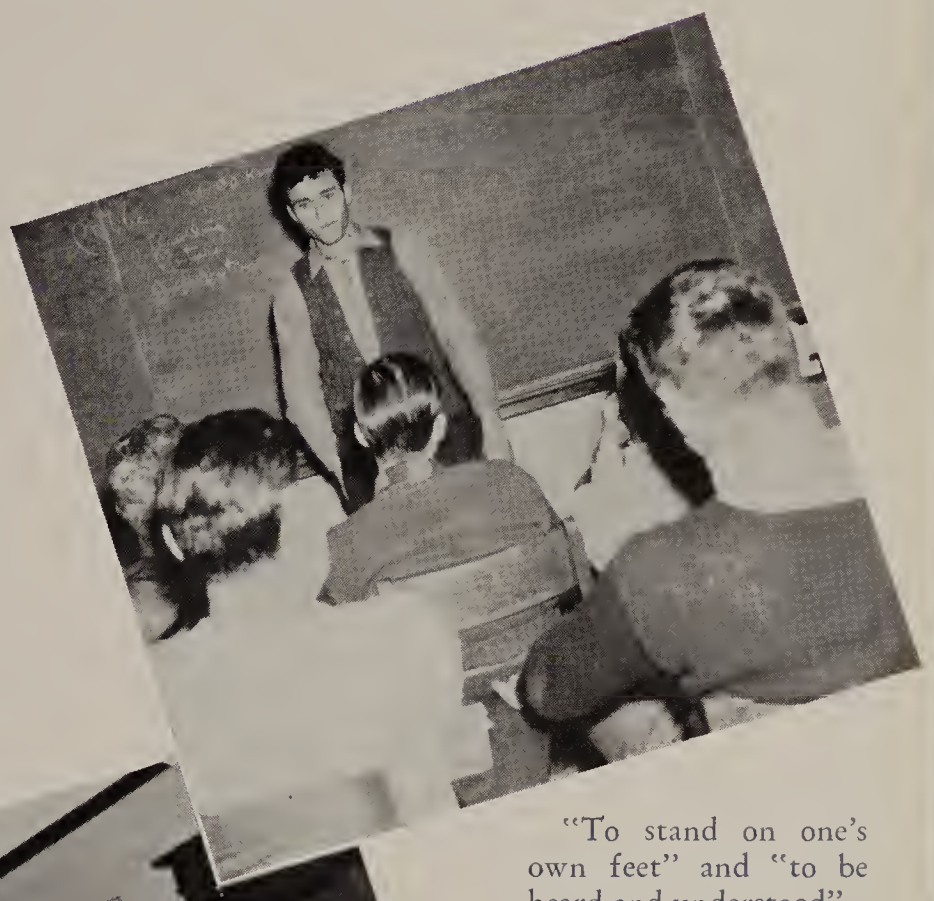

Problems of social importance, effecting the lives of every nation, were discussed and questioned by the students.

The Development of His Modes of Expression

The student learns to express his thoughts and emotions through a systematic training in the various fields of music, art, dramatics and debating. The importance of being able to share with others the benefits of his education was considered a very necessary part of the student's development.

"To stand on one's own feet" and "to be heard and understood".

Musical talents were discovered and encouraged.

Top and left: Two classes in advanced chemistry.

Well Equipped Labs, Staff of Thoroughly Trained Instructors

An outstanding part of the curriculum is the rapid expanding science department. Modern equipment and a large staff of professors are at the disposal of the students. The College has received a high rating because of the excellent training it offers in the various pre-professional courses, particularly in the pre-medical course.

Here, as in probably no other department in the curriculum, is shown the importance of the controlled size of classes due to limited enrollment. The benefits derived from the frequent and proper use of laboratory equipment by all students are shown in the success achieved by students who have entered graduate schools.

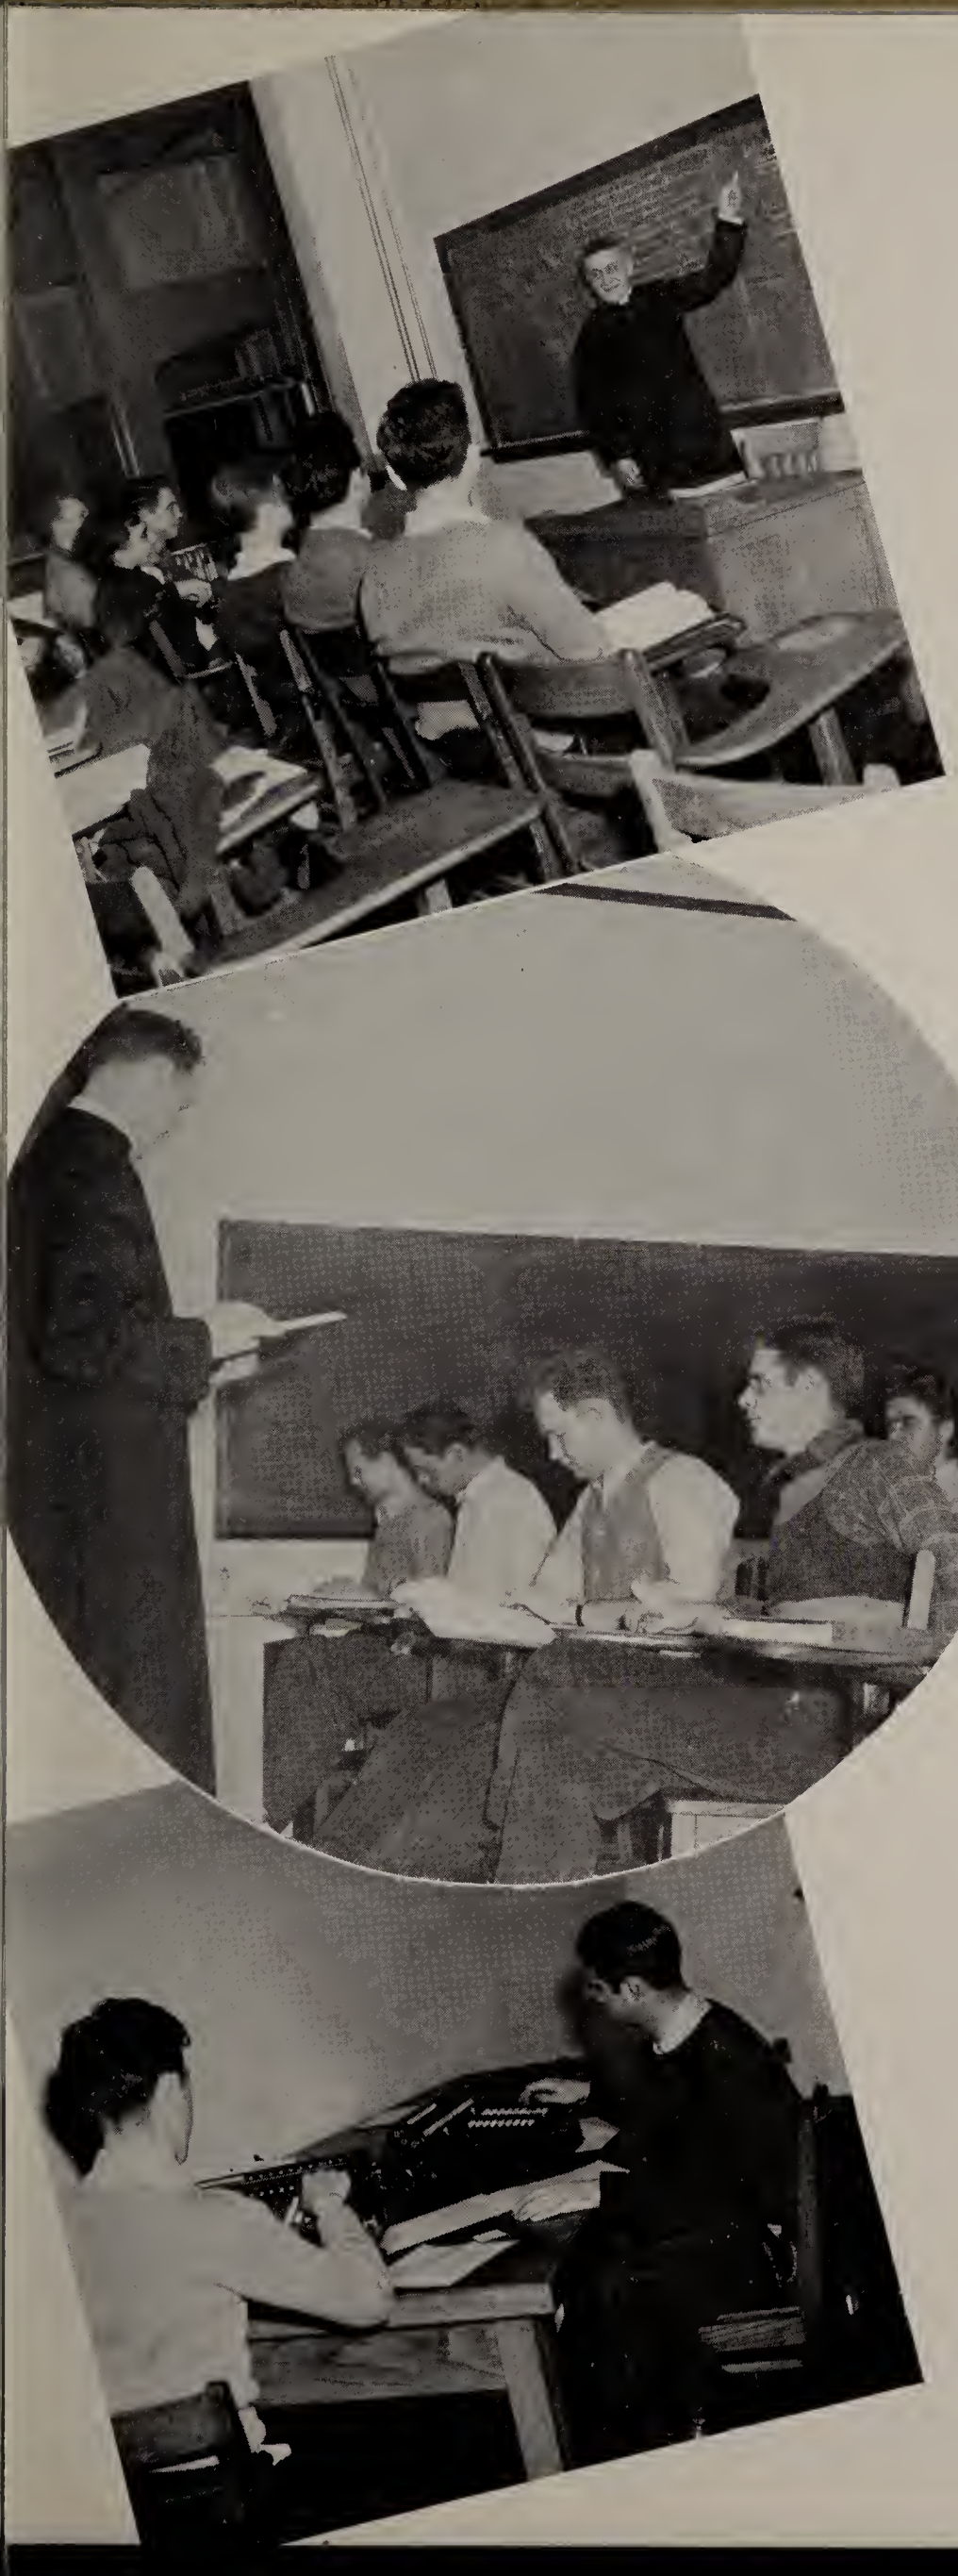

Ten Departments of Instruction at His Disposal

The student will find ten departments of study, comprising over two hundred and twenty-seven courses. A faculty of sixty professors, priest and laymen, and a moderate enrollment brings about the unusual ratio of one professor to less than ten students.

Many courses in mathematics are helpful to both the science and art students.

Pre-engineers receive training in constructions in drawing classes.

Courses in Scholastic Philosophy are requisites for graduation.

Field of Accounting studied in varied curriculum of lecture courses.

Manipulation of various accounting machines studied by students.

They Taught Him to Live Well

"Little Joe" had for his professors the Precious Blood Fathers, a group of priests who have dedicated their lives to teaching men. He found them ever willing to help in all his problems, unswerving in their aim to lead youth to a knowledge of truth and righteousness.

The men with whom he lived and studied were the exemplary professors of an institution of learning whose sole purpose is "to develop youth into men of physical vigor, sound scholarship, and fine spiritual outlook; into loyal Christians and loyal Citizens."

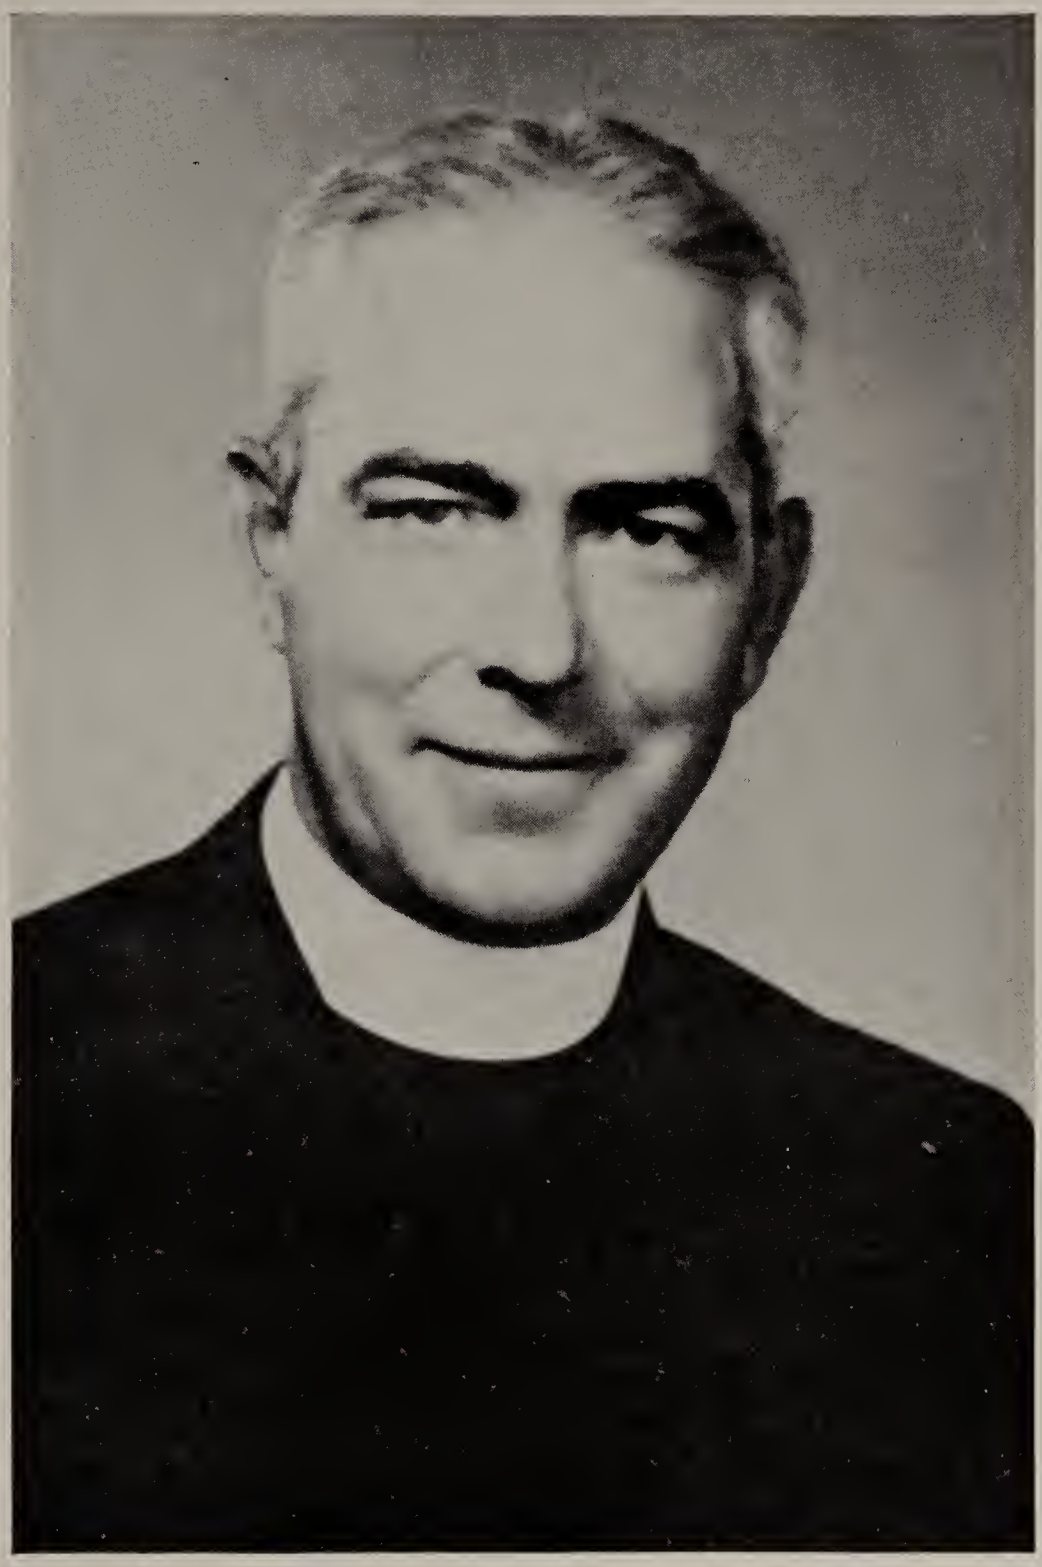

The Very Reverend
Aloys H. Dirksen, S.T.D.
President

The Ninth President of St. Joseph's

The President of St. Joseph's College during the present national emergency is the Very Rev. Aloys H. Dirksen. Never in the history of the college has a president been faced with such a tremendous task as falls upon the shoulders of our present rector.

Since taking the office of President in 1938, Father Dirksen has seen the College expand in physical size with the immense building program and has done much to raise St. Joseph's College to a high position among Catholic boarding educational institutions.

Just what effect the national emergency may have on the future of the College is undetermined, but with Father Dirksen's past record as a criterion, his effort of guiding the College through the crisis will bring St. Joseph's to a promising future.

Reverend Frederick L. Fehrenbacher, M.A.
Vice President

An Active Member of Board of Administration

Rev. Frederick Fehrenbacher has been vice-president of the College since 1938. Closely united to the students as an active member of the faculty in the Social Science Department, Father Fehrenbacher has won the admiration of the entire student body with his understanding and kindness.

Among his other duties away from teaching Father Fehrenbacher acts as director of the Religious Brothers of the Precious Blood.

He is a member of the athletic board. Very active in sports during his college he is now highly responsible for the present standard of sportsmanship in the athletics of the College. A faithful follower of all sporting events he can always be found encouraging the St. Joe men to victory whenever and wherever they play.

Reverend John J. Schon, M.A.
Treasurer

Fr. John J. Schon, as Treasurer of the College is an indispensible member of the College's official family. Besides tabulating the institution's debits and credits, Fr. Schon serves as procurator for the school, this year being faced with the problem of supplying food for over six hundred people, teachers, students and workers, in times when rationing is the order of the day.

Due to the increasing weight of his position, Fr. Schon has given up his duties as a teaching member of the staff. He attended the Universities of Indiana and Illinois. He received his Master's Degree from Catholic University of America.

Reverend Henry A. Lucks, Ph.D.
Dean of the College

Fr. Henry A. Lucks, Dean of the College, and Registrar, has the task of keeping the curriculum of the College running smoothly. Among his numerous duties are registration, arrangement of class and examination schedules, issuing of grades and general supervision of the teaching staff.

His work this year has been complicated by the reports and information associated with the Selective Service and the Military Reserves.

Fr. Lucks is an active member of the Department of Philosophy. It has been through his efforts that the first year book was published by the students and at present he serves as Faculty Advisor of Phase.

Policies of the College

To Rev. Norman G. Koller, Dean of Men, is assigned the disciplinary functions of a boarding college for men. The "youngster" of the Board of Administration through his genuine personality and knowledge of young men is performing his duties in a manner satisfactory to both the faculty and student body.

Fr. Koller also serves as faculty military advisor, a position of paramount importance to both the college and to the students. He is a member of the teaching staff of the Department of Religion.

Fr. Koller received his A.B. degree from St. Joseph's College.

Reverend Norman C. Koller, A.B.
Dean of Men

The Chairmanship of the Department of Physical Education is held by Rev. Edward M. Roof. Under his jurisdiction are all matters pertaining to the physical welfare of the student body. As President of the Athletic Board Fr. Roof is a member of the College Board of Administration. During his term of office the athletic teams of the college have risen to outstanding success in the Indiana Conference.

His chief concern is however not with providing the best equipment and training for the varsities but in maintaining a thorough Physical Training program for all students. This year under his leadership a compulsory physical training program was introduced.

Reverend Edward M. Roof, M.A.
President of Athletic Board

Reverend Sylvester H. Hartman, M.A.
Spiritual Director

Reverend Thomas H. Grotenrath, M.A.
Chairman, Department of Religion

Solid Religious Instruction

The Spiritual Director of the College is Fr. Sylvester H. Hartman, whose name has been associated with the College over a long period of years. Fr. Hartman has conducted throughout the academic year a series of lectures on religious problems.

Teaching in the Department of Philosophy, Fr. Hartman has seen his logic course develop into a "must" class on the schedule of all students. Among the pleasant memories of the Alma Mater for all alumni are those associated with the interesting hours spent in Fr. Hartman's classes.

The crowning achievement of his teaching career was the completion of his logic text in November of 1936, the result of years of careful thought and preparation in Scholastic Philosophy.

The extensive program of the Department of Religion is under the guidance of Rev. Thomas H. Grotenrath.

Under his direction a staff of priests, highly educated in Catholic institutions, stress not only the dogmas of the Catholic Church but also the practical problems of ethics and morals.

Fr. Grotenrath attended Notre Dame University and received his Master's Degree from Catholic University of America. In addition to his work in the Religion Department, he teaches History and English.

Brothers

Small in number, mighty in the task they have chosen to perform are the industrious brothers of the Society of the Precious Blood. Having chosen a life of labor as the best and most fitting manner in which to serve his God, each brother has his specific duties to perform in the everyday life here at Collegeville.

The direction and handling of the college farms, which annually yield enormous crops of potatoes and other farm products, is placed in the able hands of Brother William Loehr. The powerhouse, veritable life-blood of the whole of Collegeville, is under the watchful supervision of Brother Henry Olberding, while the management of the carpenter shop is entrusted to Brother Fred Baechtel. Nor could one go on without mentioning Brother Dave Schneider and his barber shop.

Thus one can readily see that it has been through the gratuitous services of the brothers that St. Joe has been able to expand itself into an efficient and well-maintained institution. All that the brothers ask in return is the privilege to offer their lives and their work to the honor and glory of their Creator.

Dedicated to a Life of Labor

These Were Truly Friendships

"Little Joe" was quick to sense the friendly atmosphere pervading the St. Joseph's campus. Though the institution be small, he nevertheless realized the greater opportunities ahead for forming permanent and cherished friendships. This soon proved true as a result of his associations with fellow students in classes, activities, and various endeavors. For him, the true characteristic spirit of St. Joseph's will always be embodied in the friendly relations of both its faculty and student body.

The ten seniors chosen for WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN COLLEGES AND UNIVERSITIES.

Thirty-five Receive Baccalaureate Degrees

This year's senior class will probably be the last to be able to look upon four full years at St. Joseph's, at least for the duration of the war. When the accelerated war-time program was put into effect, the present senior class was the first to be able to profit by it. This can be noticed by the dwindling enrollment of a class which was once the largest in the history of the college.

Not letting a speed-up program stand in their way, the seniors have stood out in the limelight in several ways. They were the first class ever to be chosen to represent St. Joseph's College in the "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities". This alone is a great honor to outdo all the others received during the four years. In athletics, the seniors provided some of the all-time great athletes of the school.

Many of the seniors are destined for future service to their country. Truly then, their graduation will mean the "commencement" of a new way of living.

First Class to Graduate From Summer Session

In accordance with the National Emergency the Board of Administration and the Faculty of St. Joseph's have begun a program of three semesters annually. This was inaugurated with the first summer session of last June, '42. This is the first group of young men to receive degrees from Summer Semester.

Mr. Hurley completed his four year course, Summa Cum Laude. Mr. Schraff graduated Magna Cum Laude.

Juniors Divided by Accelerated Program

With two years of college behind them, the Juniors entered upon their third year of higher learning full of enthusiasm. Leaders in every campus activity, they have heaped upon their future alma mater rewards of great abundance.

Providing the editor of the campus newspaper, several of the outstanding athletes of the state and artists of the theatre, are just a few of the contributions made by the class to the college.

The Juniors are not to be outdone by any other class in coming to the aid of their country. Already names of many of the original class are seen on the college honor roll. Every branch of the armed service has a member of the class of 1944.

The Junior class are determined students. They have proved to us what can be expected of them. Though many of them will not graduate due to the beckoning of the armed services, we feel confident that they will be as much a credit to our country as they were to St. Joseph's.

Sophs Took Over as Upperclassmen

Almost every sophomore was inclined to throw out his chest a trifle as he was approached when he returned to begin his second year at St. Joe, for now he was an upperclassman.

Seeking vengeance for their freshman initiation, they were glad to repay the first year students the torture that they had once gone through. This taken care of, the sophomores settled down to lead a normal college life.

The class proved that they were really St. Joe men. Several of the fellows were represented on the football team. One player was one of the leading scorers of the state and was mentioned on several All-State teams. In basketball, the starting lineup was always boasting of sophomores.

Glad to answer the call of their country, many of the original class did not return, but those who are back are listed among the Army, Navy, and Marine reserves.

The knowledge, ability, talent, training, the sophomores gained at St. Joseph will enable them to bring future honor to themselves and to their school.

Largest Frosh Class Despite Possible Draft Notices

America's unselfish youth was called upon to aid their country by returning to school until needed for service. The freshman class, the class that would be known as the class of 1946, opened their eyes on the world of higher learning, with this idea in mind. Not knowing how long their stay in school would last, they gladly began to enrich themselves with knowledge.

The freshman class was one of the largest ever to enter St. Joseph's College. The Raleigh Club initiation, the wearing of the green cap, the Homecoming bonfire and dance gave the freshmen a taste of what was in store for them as they continued their stay in school.

Regardless of their attempt to stay in school, a great many of them will not be able to finish, but their taste of college life will, in the coming victory, bring them back to finish their interrupted stay at St. Joseph's.

Members of Preparatory Seminary

The Sanguinist students, or seminarians of the Precious Blood Community, reside in Xavier Hall. Being one of the newest buildings on the campus, it is conveniently situated near the chapel.

The activities of these pre-philosophy students are numerous. Many of the Community students are members of the Holy Name Society, the Choir, the Band, and the Orchestra. Others are frequent contributors to Measure, the college literary magazine.

In addition to being members of these college organizations, the students manage their own dramatic society, the Curtain Club. The Dwenger Mission unit, with its religious article store in Gaspar Hall, is also sponsored by the Sanguinists.

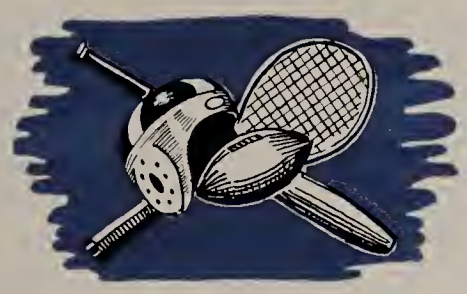

They engage in intra-mural competition in touch football, basketball, and softball. For the past two years the Xavierites have dominated the inter-hall football league.

The Community students undergo a rigorous academic training with great stress being laid upon the classical languages, Latin and Greek. After two years at St. Joseph's, the seminarians pursue higher studies at St. Charles' Seminary in Carthagena, Ohio.

He Acquired a Strong Body

All work and no play would make "Little Joe" a dull Puma. With great satisfaction then, he learned of the various athletic facilities available for the proper physical training and development of all students. Having accepted the extended invitation to participate actively in some sport, either in varsity or intra-mural competition, "Little Joe" succeeded not only in furthering the achievements of former Puma athletes but also in developing a "sound body" for his "sound mind".

Athletic Board Responsible For College Athletics

The entire athletic program, intercollegiate and intramural, is under the guidance and control of the Athletic Board. Its five members, themselves all athletes of renown, are responsible for the increasing reputation of the College in the world of sports. To them is given the duty of determining the policies of the College in regard to all matters concerning varsity teams to be maintained, eligibility of participants and schedules to be played.

The splendid Physical Fitness Program was designed by the Board to give to the student body the best possible training in keeping with the national effort.

The varsity monograms and all intramural awards for athletic achievement are given to students upon the approval and recommendation of the Board.

Coaching Staff Leads College to Tops in Conference

During his brief term as Athletic Director at St. Joseph's, Mr. Dienhart has already established the Pumas as "tops" in the Indiana Conference and has gained for himself the reputation of one of the finest coaches in the country today.

He and his capable staff of assistants have made an enviable record for college varsity teams. The Conference championship in baseball and football has remained at Collegeville for the past two years. Consistently superior teams have been developed in track, tennis, and boxing. A winning streak of football games has been maintained of twenty-one games, a record for Indiana football surpassed by only the immortal Rockne team.

But these records are overshadowed by the ability of Mr. Dienhart to instill in "his boys" a true spirit of competitive play, marked by love of the game and sportsmanship.

Pumas Go Undefeated Second Straight Year

Looking forward to the 1942 football season Coach Joe Dienhart wasn't sure just what to expect from his charges. There were plenty of star backs but the line seemed to be nothing but a question mark. With the Indiana Conference waiving the freshman rule, Coach Joe counted heavily on the newcomers to fill the shoes of such stars as Sunagel, Resetar, Gilpin, and Scollar, all of whom are in the Services.

PUMAS 18 ILLINOIS NORMAL 7

After several weeks of pre-season drills under their belts the Pumas traveled to Bloomington to meet the representatives of Illinois Normal. Within three minutes the men from Collegeville had scored their first touchdown. Before the afternoon was over two more St. Joe scores had been made and the final read: St. Joe, 18; Illinois Normal, 7. Captain Pete Varini took care of the scoring for the team. George Ellspermann, sophomore left half, made a sparkling debut as a regular on the St. Joe squad.

PUMAS 19 LORAS 0

In the home opener the Pumas faced the Duhawks of Loras College. Once again St. Joe scored in the opening minutes with George Ellspermann carrying the ball over on the fifth play of the game. A pass and four plays off the T-formation advanced the ball 65 yards for the tally. Captain Pete Varini netted two more "TD'S" to his collection, plunging over from the five and the three-yard lines.

PUMAS 19 ILLINOIS WESLEYAN 7

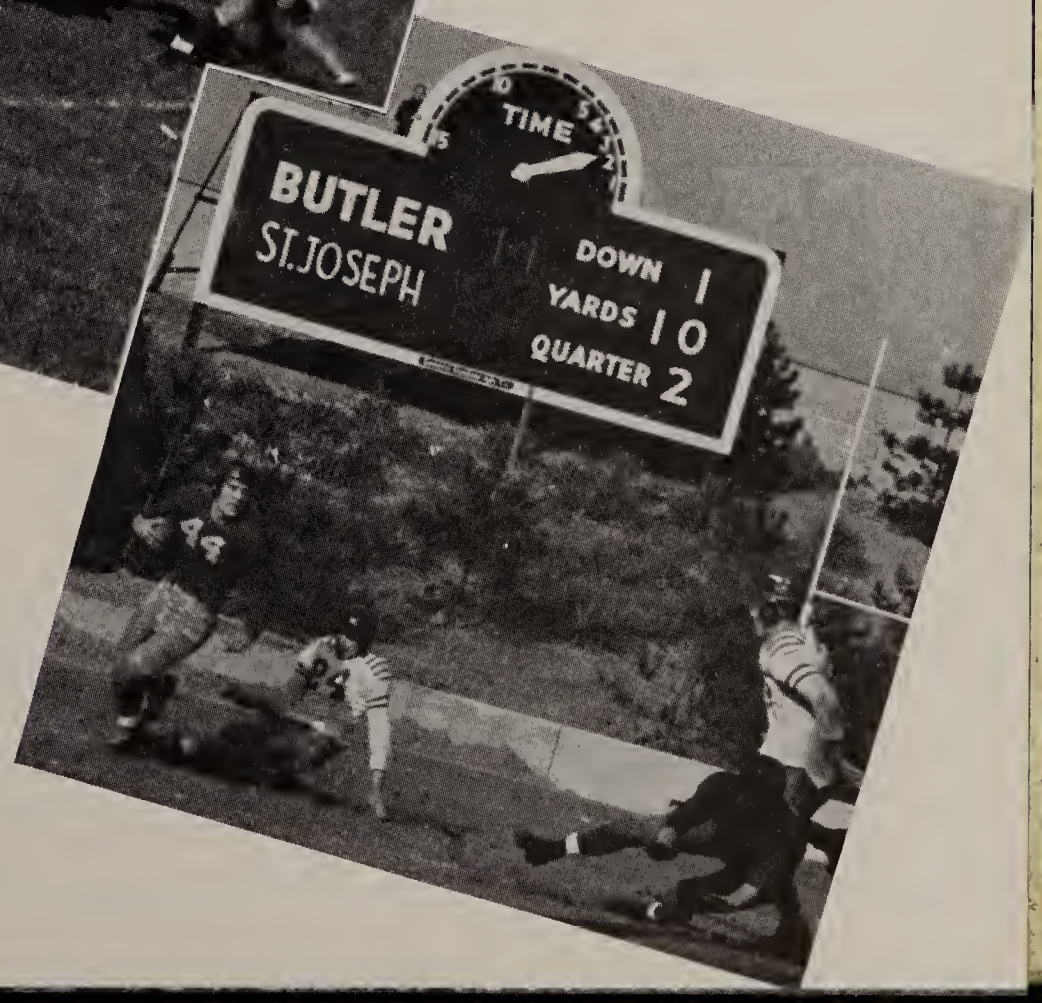

Meeting Illinois Wesleyan in the Homecoming tilt, the St. Joe team continued on the undefeated trail. Little trouble was encountered in coming away with the victory. All the St. Joe tallies were scored in the first half, in a game in which Coach Joe was able to see what the reserves could do under fire. George Ellspermann led the St. Joe offensive attack and Pete Varini continued with a-score-a-game, at least.

PUMAS 13 ST. AMBROSE 13

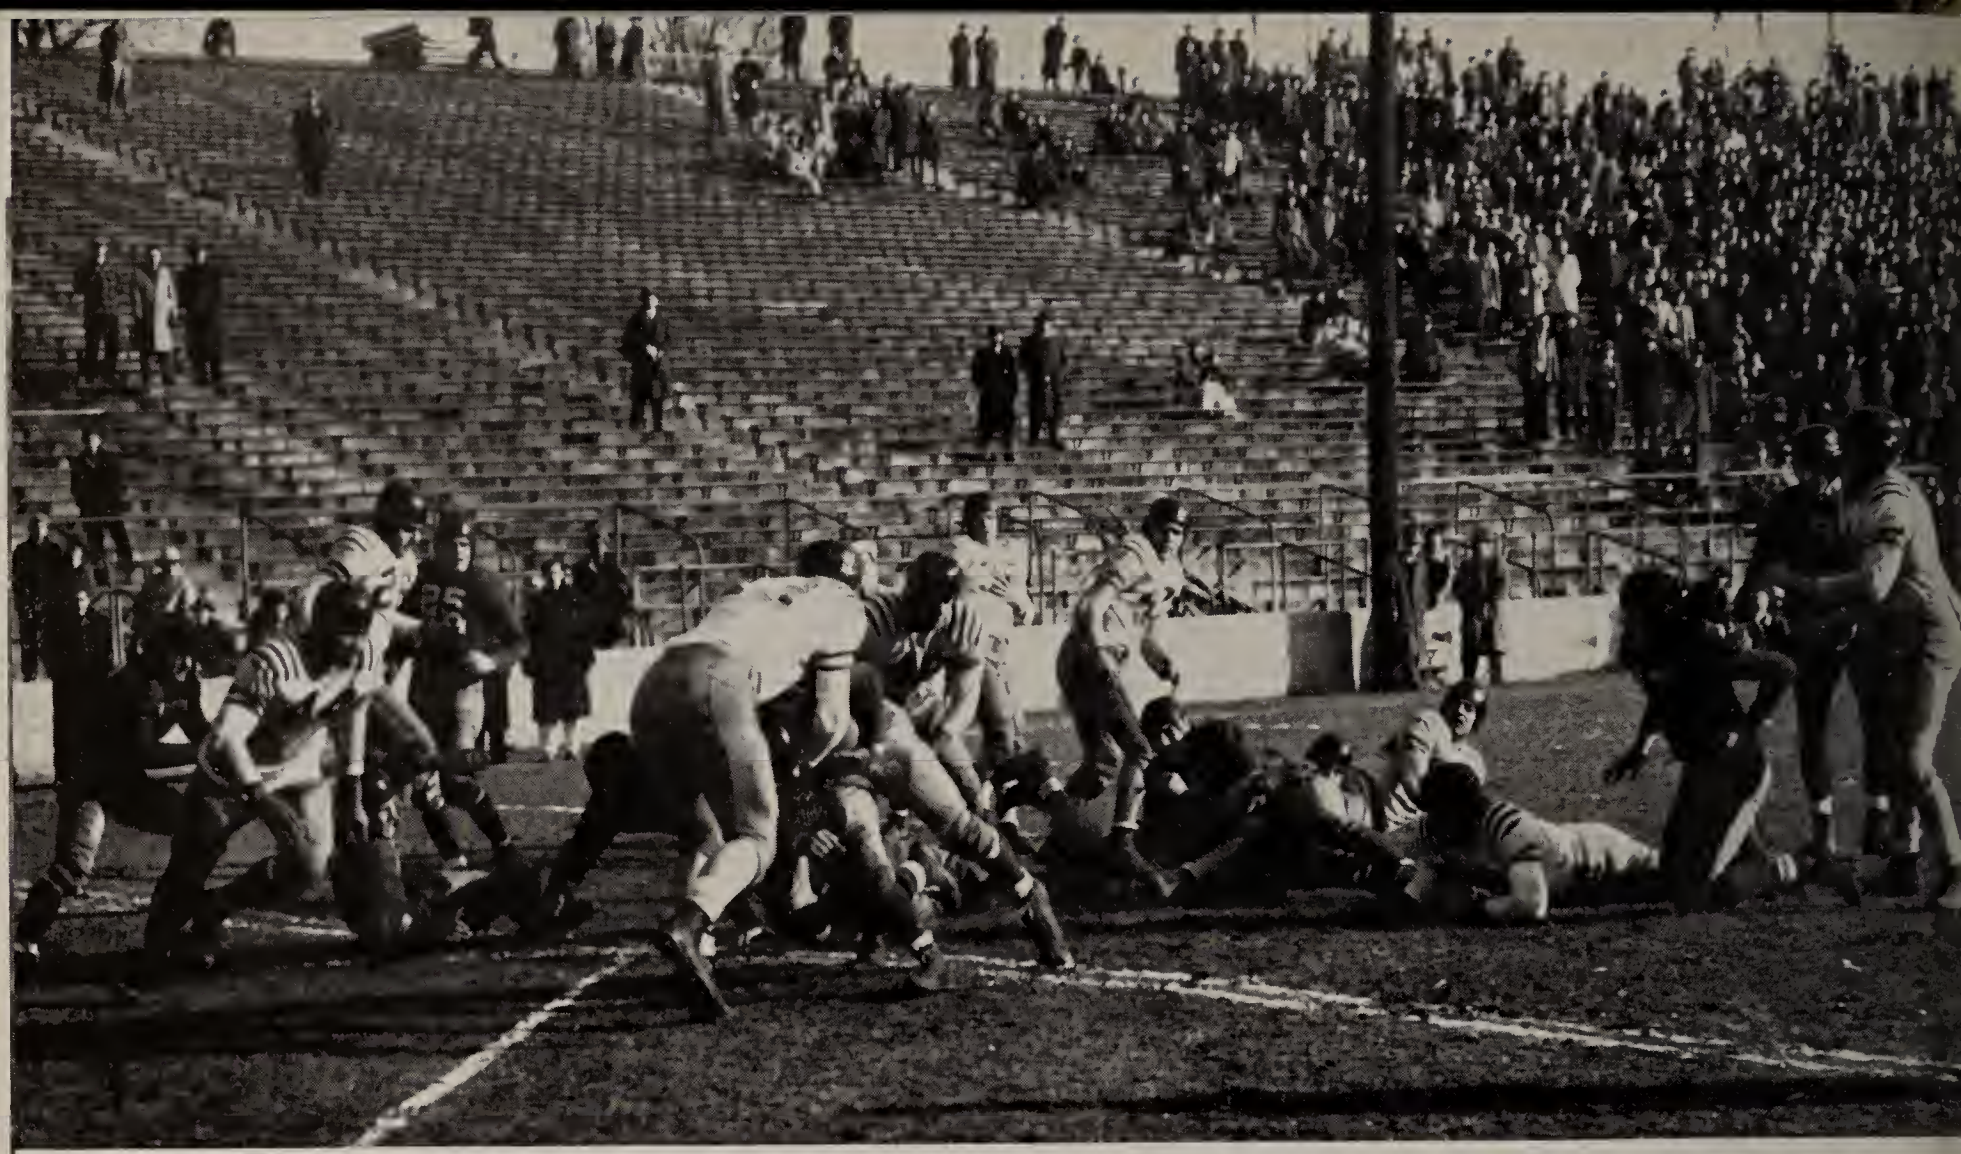

Traveling to Davenport, Iowa, the Pumas had their victory string snapped as the St. Ambrose Bees held them to a 13-13 tie. The game started in favor of St. Joe as Pete Varini crossed the goal early in the initial period, but in the third quarter St. Ambrose garnered two tallies and took the lead. Fighting furiously in the final stanza the Pumas brought the ball again across the Bees goal line, Pete Varini again doing the honors.

PUMAS 19 INDIANA STATE 7

In their first game in defense of the Indiana Conference crown, St. Joe humbled Indiana State, 19 to 7. State took the lead but before the end of the half St. Joe tied the score. With the St. Joe backfield on an afternoon rampage the second half was strictly a St. Joe field-day. Ted Swierczek was the ground gainer of the day. Scores were made by Varini and Ellspermann.

PUMAS 19 ST. NORBERTS 0

On the road once again St. Joe faced the Green Knights of St. Norbert's in quest of their 19th game without defeat. The Pumas returned with their booty as they chalked up a 19 to 0 win. Again it was George and Pete who carried the brunt of the offensive attack. The Captain netted two of the tallies and the sophomore star chalked up the third.

PUMAS 6 BUTLER 0

Butler loomed as the highest hurdle for the Pumas who were out for their second consecutive Conference Crown. Outstanding line play by a seasoned forward wall, which was an important factor in the Pumas' winning streak, saved the day as St. Joe eked out a 6 to 0 victory. Ted Swierczek and Jerry Mullen supported George Ellspermann in the offensive attack.

PUMAS 32 VALPARAISO 0

In the finale at Valparaiso the Pumas played their best game of the year. Too much cannot be written about the line play. This Puma "wall" which allowed only 5 touchdowns for the entire season was not to be scored upon this afternoon. With the experience of a tough schedule behind them a once "green" line was out to show the opposition that they had developed into something just short of clock-like precision.

Winning Streak Best In Conference History

The Pumas humbled the Crusaders, 32 to 0, to bring home the Conference championship, a second undefeated season, and a winning streak of 21 games. George Ellspermann turned in some track-meet tallies of 70, 67 and 21 yards. Captain Pete Varini added two scores to his total while making his final appearance in the Cardinal and Purple uniform.

FINALE

The honor of being voted the most valuable player on the squad went to quarterback Stan Lapsys. This senior ended a four year career as regular signal-caller for Dienhart elevens. Conny Vanderkolk, Bill Smith, Tom Scollard, George Ellspermann, and Pete Varini were all given berths on the All-Conference team. Pete Varini rated All-State Fullback, and ended a third season among the Indiana high scorers.

Puma Basketeers Have Mediocre Season

Opening the 1942-43 campaign against the Chicago Teachers in the "Windy City" December 4, the St. Joe quintet was handed a surprise 29-25 defeat. Knobby Walsh led the meager scoring of the Pumas with seven points.

In the home opener the Pumas humbled St. Norbert's of Wisconsin, 55-42. Capatin Bernie Hoffman paced the St. Joe scorers with six fielders and six charity tosses for 18 markers. Gil Hodge collected 12 points and controlled the rebounds for the Pumas.

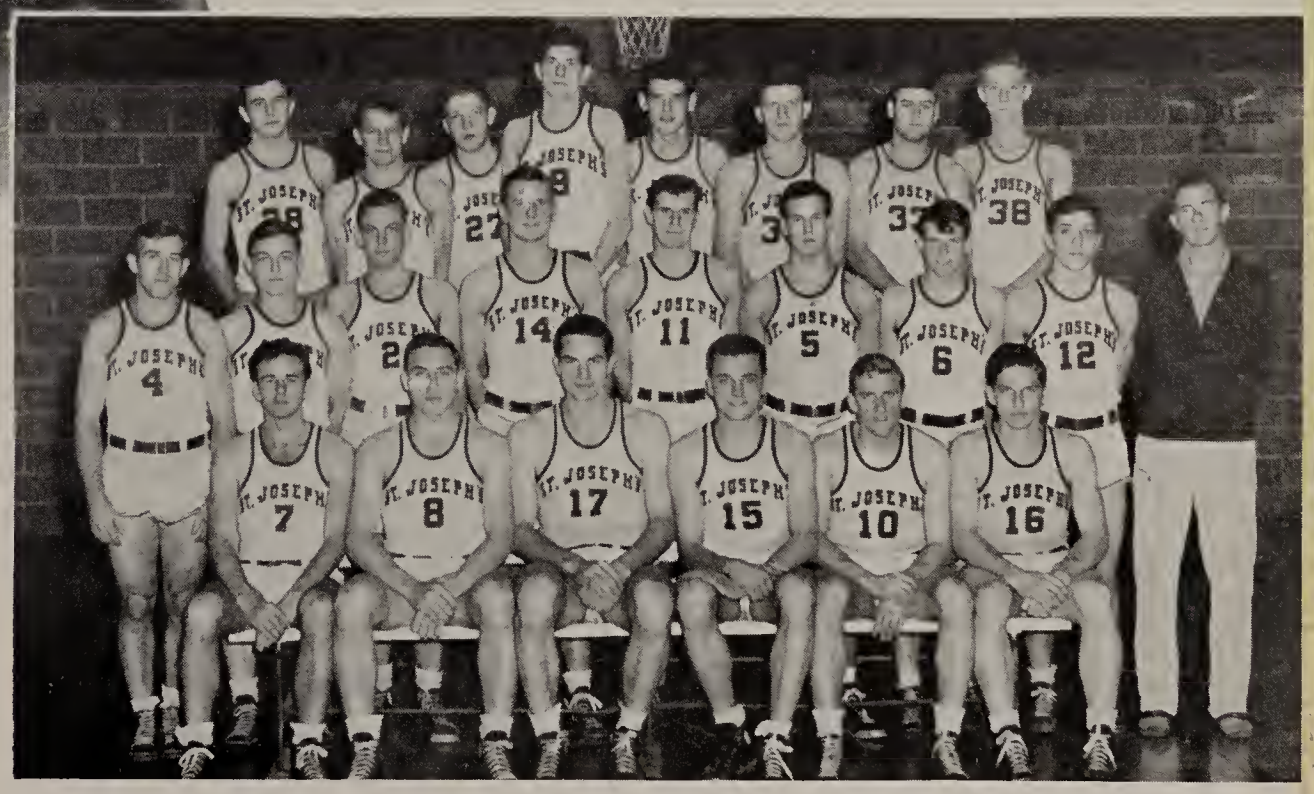

Illinois Wesleyan was the second victim of St. Joe as Bernie Hoffman and Gil Hodge tallied 30 points in a 41-32 Cardinal and Purple win.

In their final appearance before the holiday recess, the Pumas recorded their greatest achievement of the season as they felled Loyola University of Chicago, 33-30. For the first time Jiggs Huysman measured up to expectations and was the deciding factor in the win with his rebound play.

Returning to battle after the holidays, the St. Joe men continued their winning ways by defeating a strong Illinois Normal five on the fieldhouse floor, 51-48. Huysman and Hodge were the important cogs in the Puma machine.

The fleet from the Great Lakes Training Station proved too powerful for St. Joe in a benefit game at Ft. Wayne. The 60-32 final score was not a true indication of the game as the Sailor reserves piled up the score in the closing stages of the game.

First Row: Walsh, G. Hodge, Huysman, Mikan, Schrenk, Hoffman.

Second Row: Wisniewski, C. Hodge, Ritter, Vanderkolk, Rumbach, Terveer, Krouse, J. Luchi, Berghoff, Mgr.

Third Row: Buckley, Sokel, Laney, Laubacher, Biersack, Delahanty, Newland, Salb.

Victory Over Loyola Is Most Impressive Win

In a defenseless game at Valparaiso the Crusaders "out-pitched" the Pumas and the result was a 71-65 loss. Hoffman, Sokol, and Krouse dominated the St. Joe scoring, but the St. Joe team was unable to keep pace with the Valpo team which averaged six feet, four inches.

Chicago Teachers came to Collegeville for a return engagement, and in a listless tilt fell before St. Joe 44-22. Little Mike Sokol paced the Puma offensive with 12 points. Huysman and Hodge contributed 19 points and once again displayed superior backboard play.

As a start for the second semester the Pumas journeyed to Great Lakes to tangle with the Sailors. Once again the Bluejackets were the superior team as they smothered the St. Joe five 63-28. Bernie Hoffman led the scorers with eleven markers and Mike Sokol played an excellent floor game.

The Pumas traveled to Crawfordsville in an attempt to score a triumph in the Indiana Conference but failed as Wabash topped them 48-37. Hoffman again led the St. Joe point-makers. This loss lowered the season record to the fifty-fifty mark.

Indiana State administered the St. Joe quintet another Conference defeat at Terre Haute, 32-30. Bernie Hoffman with 14 points led the Pumas in their effort to upset the undefeated Sycamores.

PUMA HIGH-FLIERS,
GIL, KNOBBY, AND DON.

Returning to the home court the Pumas once again failed to dodge the conference jinx and fell before the towering Valparaiso quintet, 57-47. The local crowd was well pleased with the performance of the Pumas and took great delight in watching little Mike Sokol out-maneuver his giant opponents. Bernie Hoffman contributed the scoring punch with 23 points.

Captain Bernie Hoffman with 22 points led the Pumas to a 51-43 victory over Earlham. This was the only Conference win for the St. Joe team. Conny Vanderkolk played an exceptional game at center for the Dienhartmen.

Hitting the road once more, the St. Joe quintet traveled to meet Illinois Normal, but once again met with defeat, 54-50. In this fast moving tilt forwards Hoffman and Sokol paced the Pumas with 18 and 10 markers, respectively.

St. Joe entertained the Peru Naval Air Station quintet and administered a sound 49-30 drubbing to the Sailors. Sophomore Don Schrenk forgot his role as the Pumas' best defensive player as he led the Puma scoring attack with a total of 15 markers.

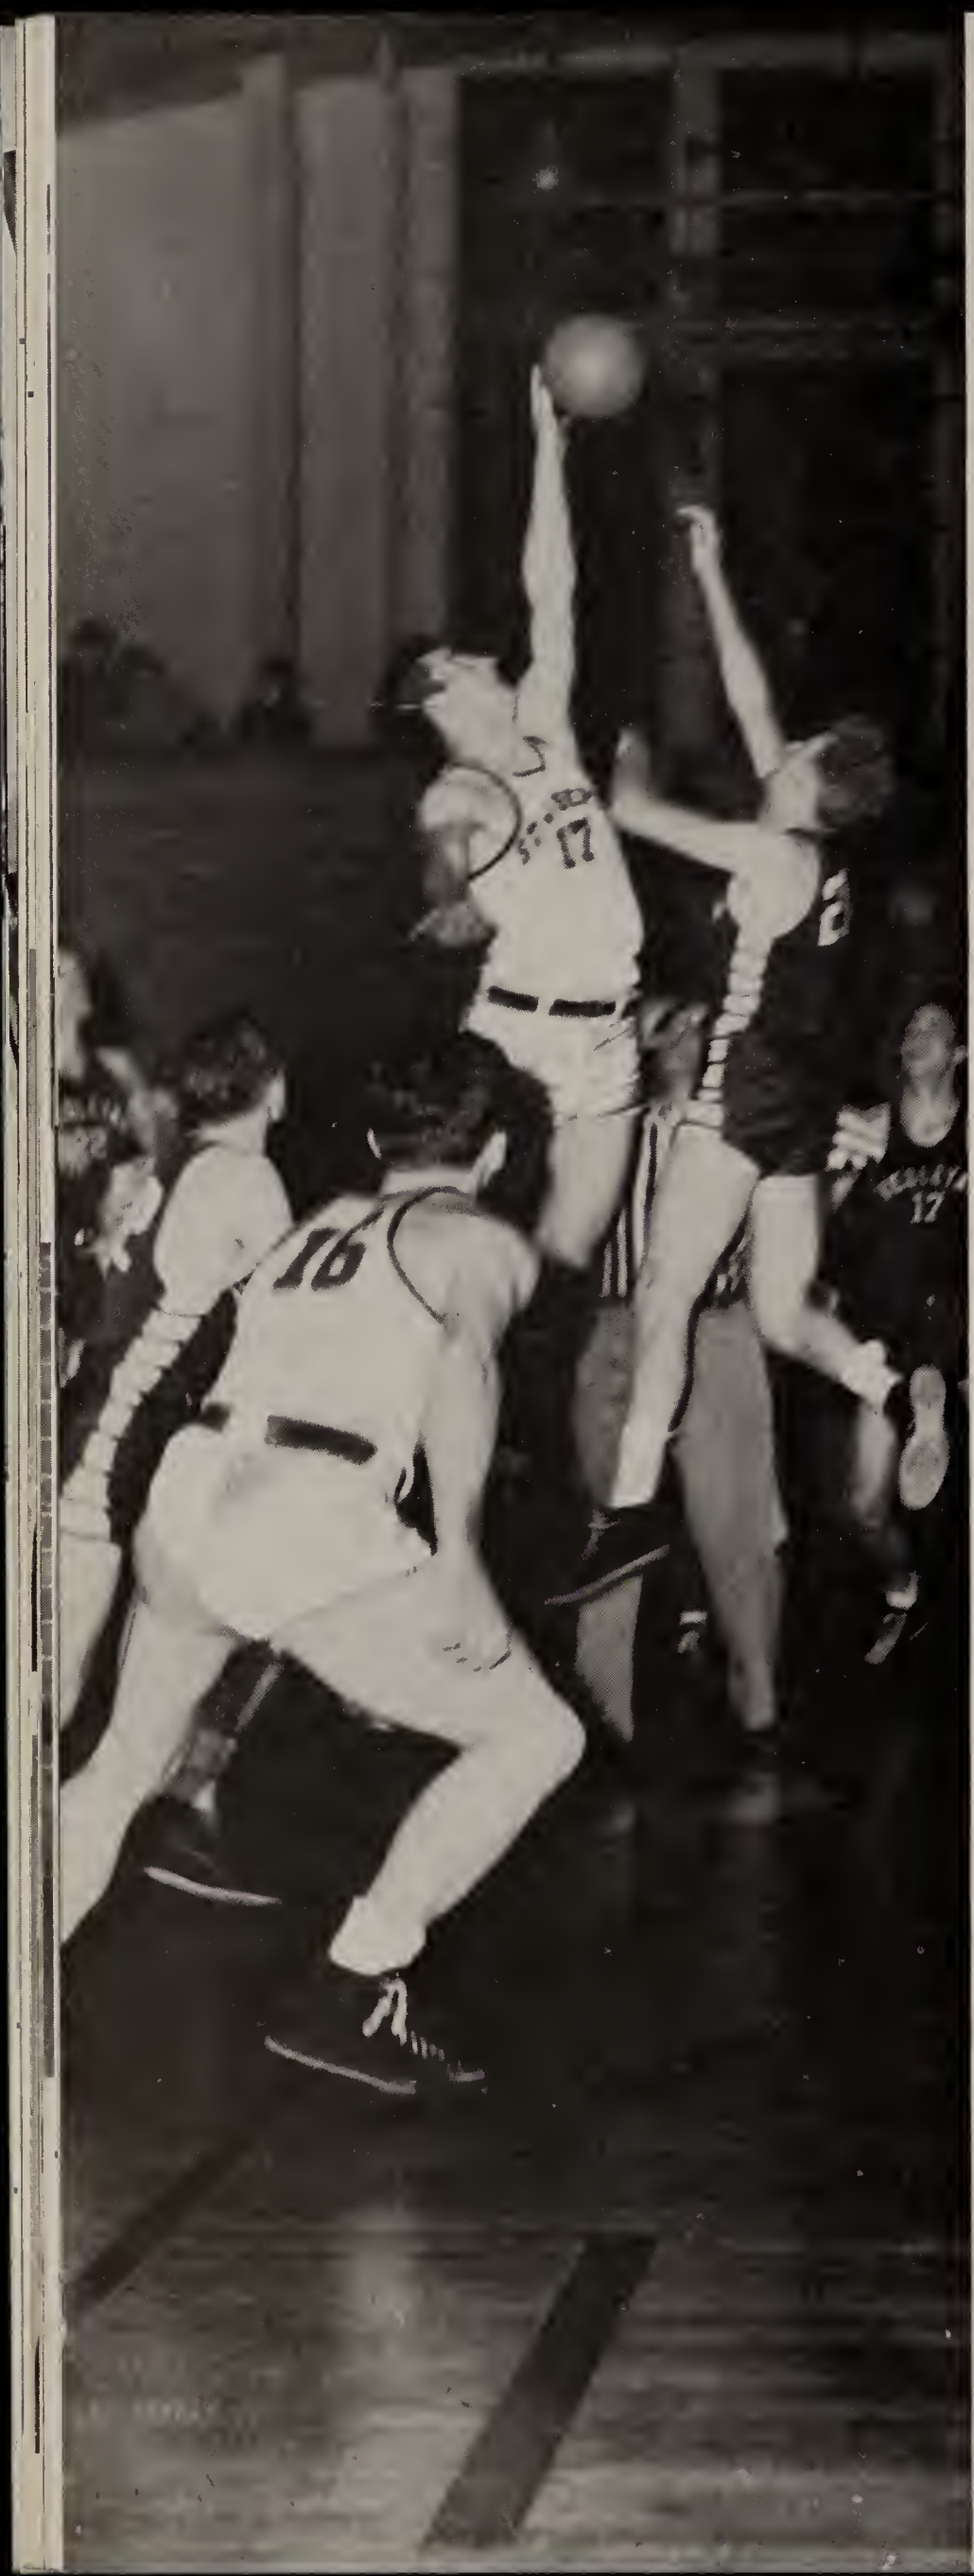

In the final home game of the season the Pumas dropped a close tilt to Indiana State, 45-41. Sokol and Hoffman led the scoring with eleven and ten points.

The Pumas journeyed to Bloomington, Ill., to capture their eighth victory of the campaign, downing Wesleyan's Titans, 37-33. Scoring was evenly divided among six of the Pumas.

In the grand finale the St. Joe five evened their season record at nine wins and nine losses by taking the Peru Naval Air Station, 50-34. The Sailors were no match for the aggressive Pumas who distributed their scoring among nine men. By gathering nine points Bernie Hoffman ran his season's total to 238, ending a brilliant career under the Cardinal and Purple.

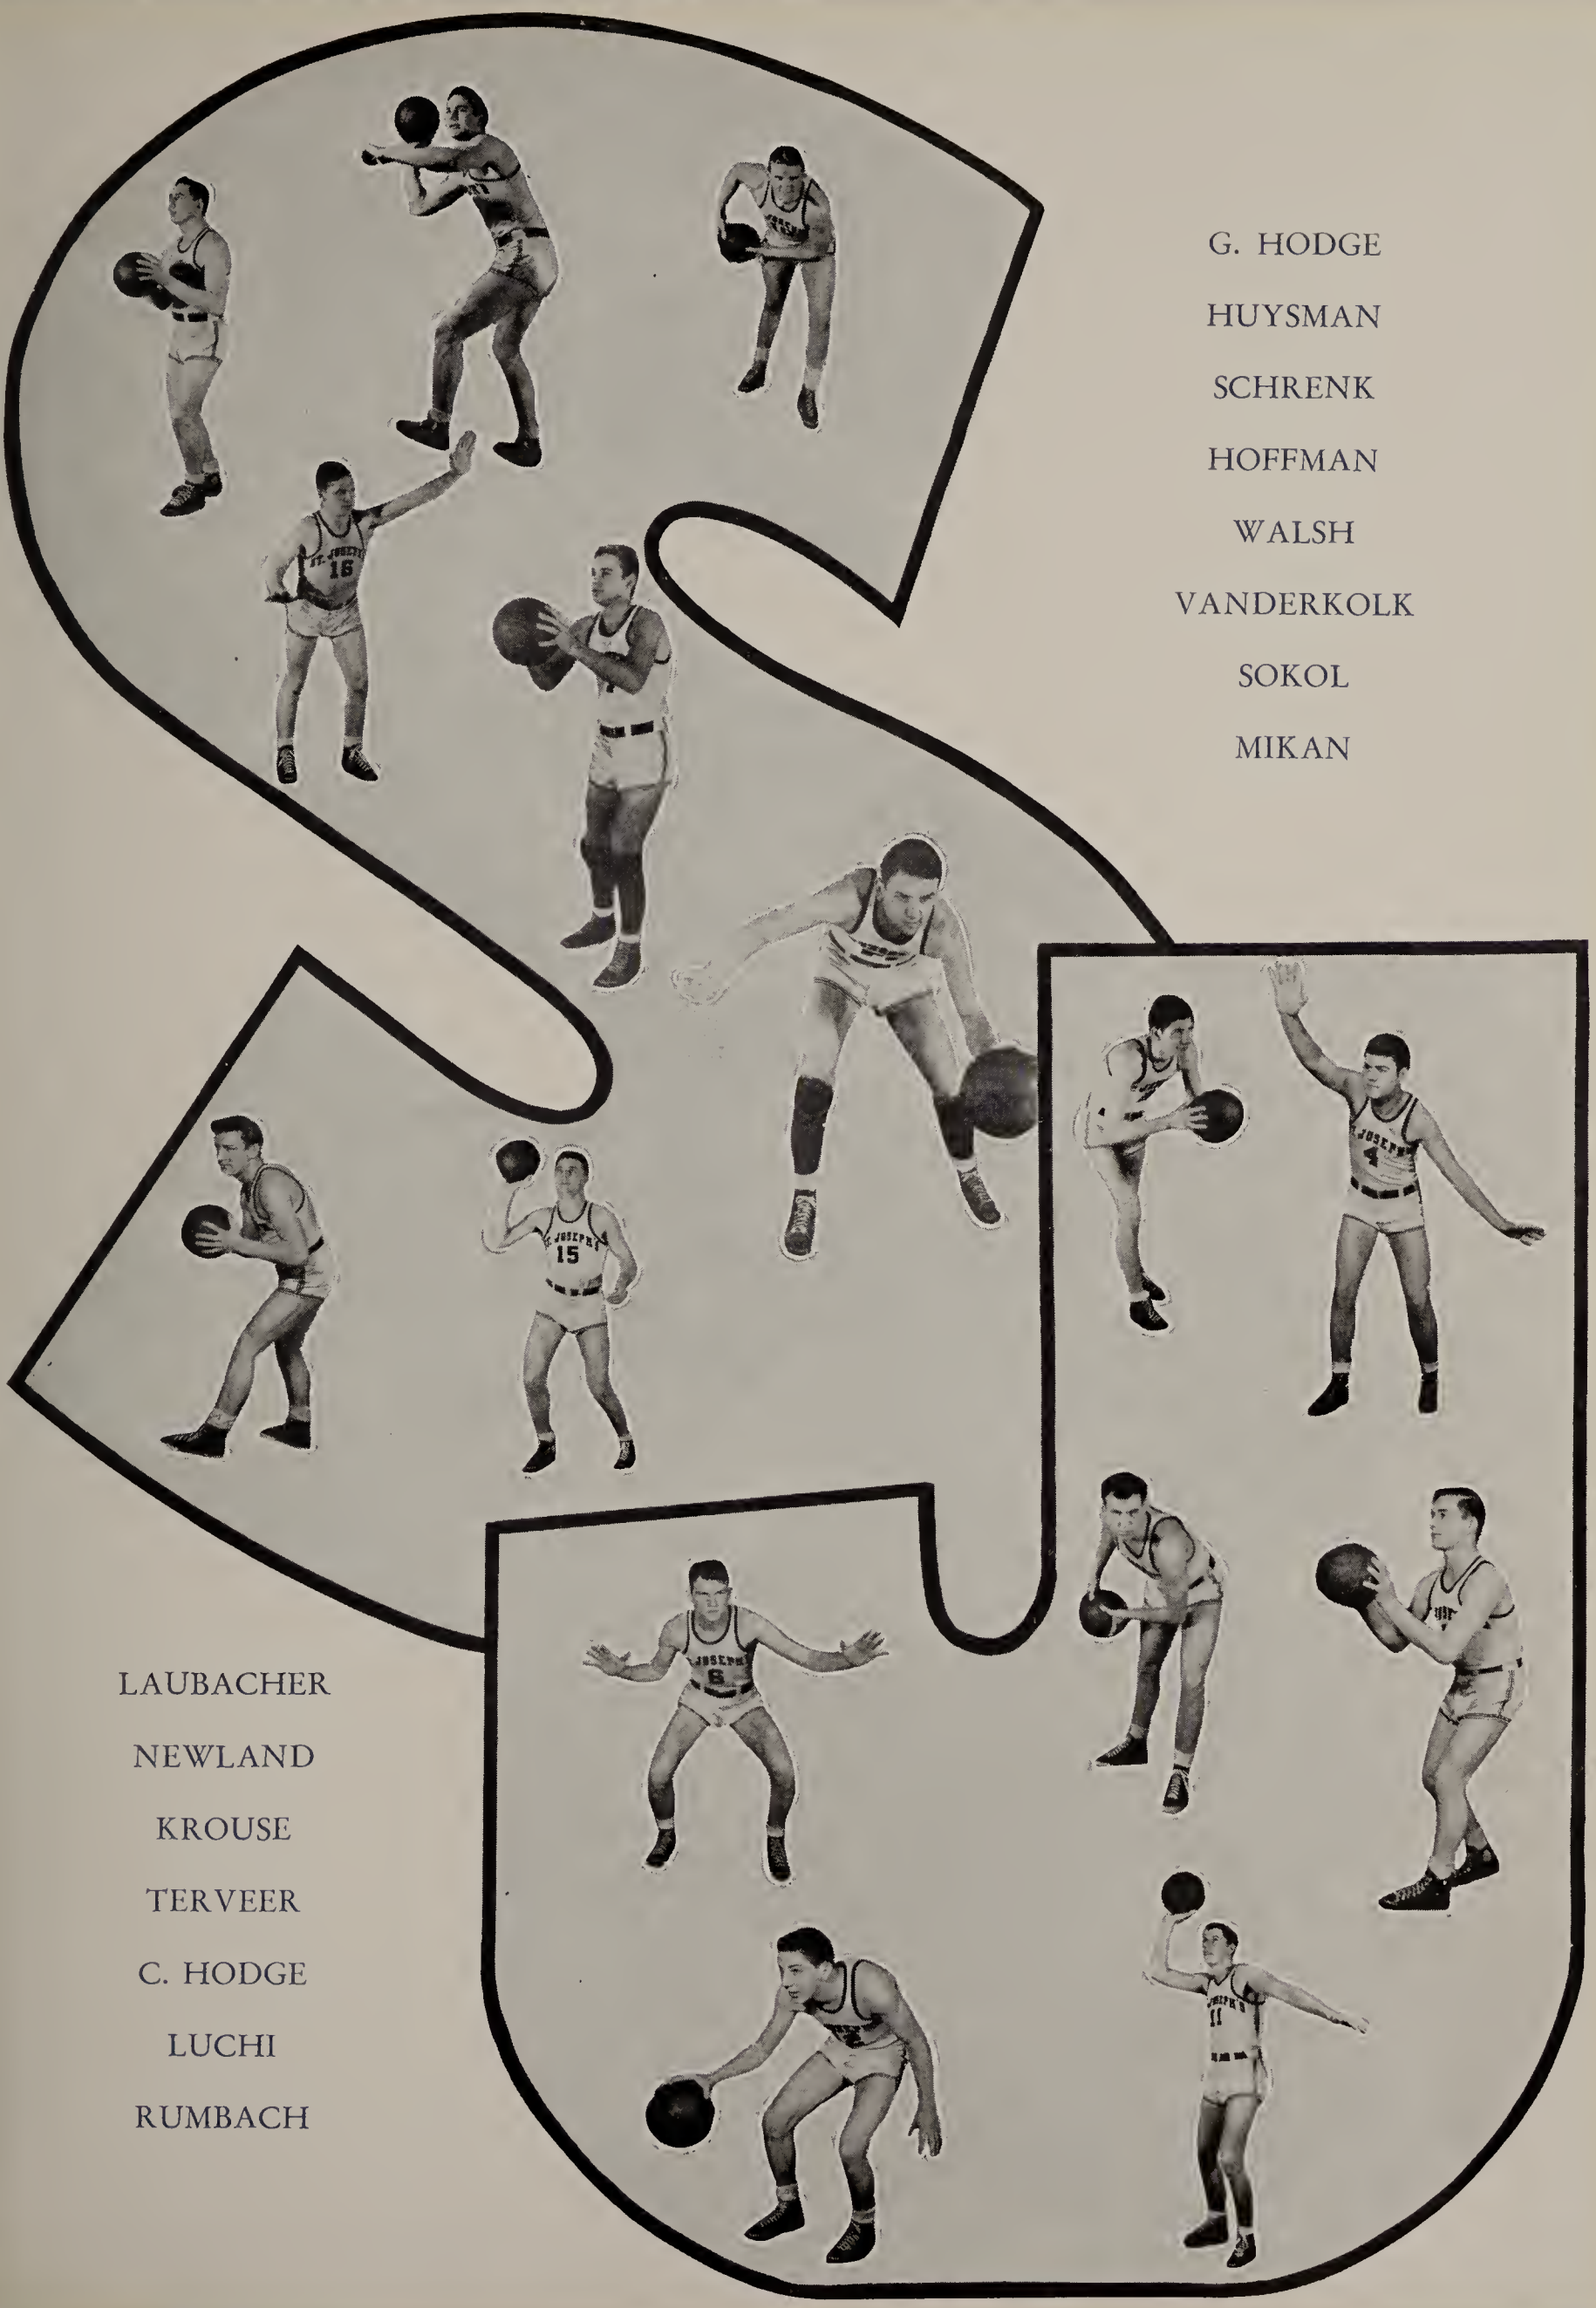

Top: Luchi and Vandy have the situation under control.
Middle: Bernie, Luchi, and Don start an invasion.
Bottom: Joe, Don, and Gil have 'em covered.

Conference Crown was Won by St. Joe Nine

Depending largely upon the work of freshmen, St. Joe annexed the Indiana Collegiate Conference Championship with a record of ten wins and one loss. In all competition the Pumas ended the season with twelve wins compared to six losses.

Veterans around which Coach Dienhart built his diamond squad were catcher Bill Gladen, first-sacker Johnny Boyle, outfielder Don Clark, pitcher and outfielder Mauri Gutgzell, and pitcher Bill Shine. Newcomers who so capably aided the cause were hurlers Al Waznis, Jim Beane, Merritt Schoder, and Charley Hodge, catcher and outfielder George Ellspermann, infielders Gil Hodge, Ambrose Martell, and Frankie Staucet, and outfielders Paul Reichert and Curley Wisniewski.

In the opening game the Pumas downed the Purdue Boilermakers, 8-2. Schoder held the Big Ten squad to two hits. Nine hits together with five Purdue errors produced the St. Joe scores. Don Clark collected three of the blows for the Pumas.

Playing Indiana University a series of three games at Bloomington, the Dienhartmen failed to salvage a single victory. The Hoosiers won the first and third game easily, 13-5 and 17-3, but in the middle contest Mauri Gutsgell lost a ten inning game 4-3. Six Puma errors proved fatal.

Still on the road St. Joe gained the victory trail once again by downing Central Normal, 15-6. Martell was top slugger of the afternoon with four hits and Waznis, Schoder and Beane shared the pitching duties.

THE BOYS PICK 'EM OUT.

Array of Freshmen Stars Aid Puma Cause

St. Joe continued on their winning way by taking the measure of Chicago Teachers, 12-5. Mauri Gutgsell chalked up the victory as Bill Gladen and George Ellspermann led the offensive attack.

Merritt Schoder hurled a three hit shutout over Central Normal on the local diamond. In this 6-0 win Frankie Staucet and George Ellspermann homered for the Pumas.

Hitting once again was the feature of the attraction as St. Joe trounced Wabash, 11-5. Frank Staucet connected for three safeties as nine of the Pumas collected hits. Waznis, Shine, and Schoder shared the hurling assignment.

Jim Beane turned in an excellent hurling performance for the Pumas but three errors spelled defeat for St. Joe. Illinois Wesleyan was the victorious guest, 9-6.

Butler fell before St. Joe in a double header at the state capital. Again Jim Beane took the mound for the Pumas. He not only pitched a 4-1 victory but led the offensive attack with a triple. In the second tilt St. Joe outslugged the Bulldogs. The result, a 10-6 win. Wisniewski and Martell led the attack with three hits each, one of Curley's was a home run. Waznis started and was relieved by C. Hodge.

First Row: Waznis, Wisniewski, Staucet, Mullens, C. Hodge, Martell, Clark, Murphy, Verpaele.

Second Row: Reichert, Mikan, Hernan, Shine, Boyle, Schoder, Heiny, Gutgsell.

Third Row: Scollard, Lapsys, Ellspermann, Bean, Zande, Caminati, Gladen, Hoffman, Dunn.

Pumas Lose Only One Conference Game

Bill Gladen and Merritt Schoder led the Pumas to a 6-2 triumph over Indiana State. The former connected for a pair of circuit drives while Schoder turned in a brilliant pitching performance.

DePauw dropped before the Pumas, 9-4, as Jim Beane did championship twirling and Johnny Boyle found the range for the longest homer of the season and "one of those sizzling" doubles.

Earlham didn't seem to be in the same class with the Pumas as they took a 18 to 4 drubbing. Frank Staucet was the hitter, driving out a homer, triple, and two singles. C. Hodge allowed but one hit in the first eight innings.

St. Joe captured another double header from Butler, winning 10-2 and 7-0. Beane and C. Hodge were the winning pitchers. Martell and Gil Hodge each collected three hits in the opener while Martell and Reichert each homered in the nightcap.

Indiana State handed the Pumas their only conference loss when Mauri Gutgsell lost a 2-1 pitching duel. Inability to bunch eight hits proved the deciding factor against the Pumas.

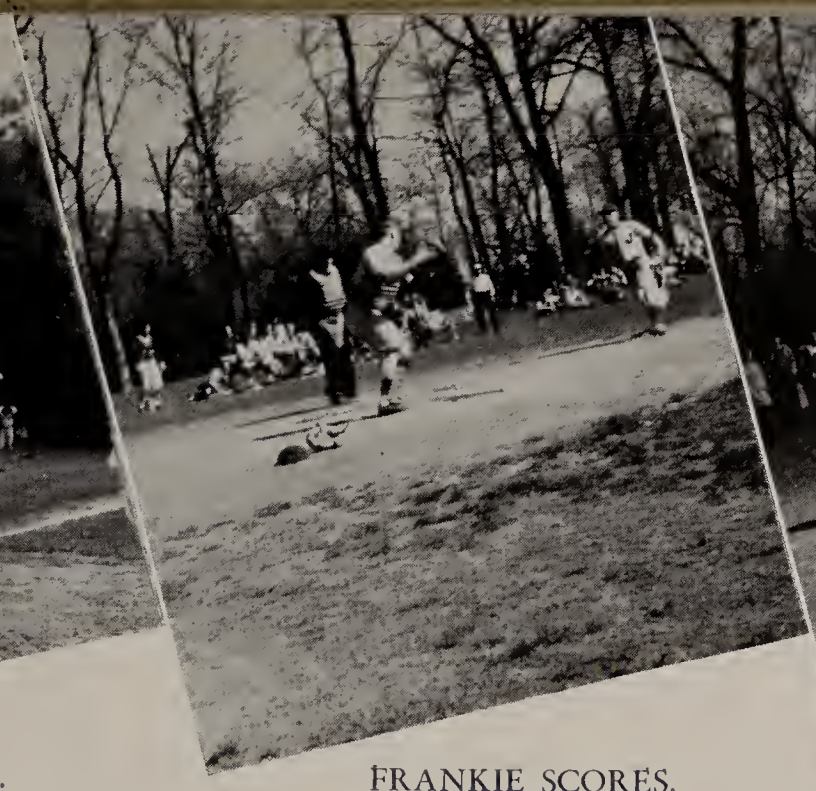

In the season's finale Jim Beane lost a thrilling duel, 3-2, to Illinois Wesleyan. After trailing throughout the Pumas scored twice in the first half of the eighth inning but the Titans marked up the winning run in the final half of the same inning.

Pumas Have Short Season on the Links

Tom Fagan, Bill Shine, Joe Reardon, and Jack McGlone were the men chosen by Coach Rev. Anthony B. Paluszak to represent St. Joe in the golf matches for the 1942 season. In their two contests the Puma linksters lost two decisions to the quartet from Indiana State University.

In the first of the two meetings the Sycamores captured an 11-7 decision. Senior Tom Fagan shot the low score of the afternoon with a 75. In the single matches all of the Pumas were able to get into the scoring columns. Fagan tallied three points, Jack McGlone one, and Shine and Reardon each captured ½ point.

In the doubles Fagan and Shine teamed together to collect two tallies for the St. Joe quartet, but the others were held scoreless.

At the Curtiss Creek Country Club, in return play, the Indiana Staters again downed the St. Joe quartet, this time 14-4. Bill Shine led the Puma team in their feeble attempt to win. Single engagements found Shine taking two points while McGlone was the only other Puma to score. He contributed ½ point.

Double matches resulted in Fagan and Shine gaining the only tallies for the Pumas. They chalked up 1½ points. McGlone and Reardon failed to add to the total.

Tennis Squad Nearly Annexes Conference Crown

The 1942 spring intercollegiate tennis season proved to be one of the most successful in the short span of that sport at St. Joseph's. Under the tutorship of Fr. Edward Roof, the Pumas netmen blasted their competitors in seven of their nine regular dual meets and added the quadrangular meet at Manchester College to their victories.

The Puma netters began their highly successful season by annexing their first six meets on the winning side. Having downed Chicago Teachers, 4-3, in their initial performance they went on to beat Wabash, 4-3; Butler, 4-3; return match with Wabash, 4-3; University of Detroit, 4-1, in that order. Paced by Parker and Walsh, their number one and two men respectively, they continued displaying their consistently brilliant game and emerged triumphant from the four-way meet at Manchester, which found them competing with Huntington, Taylor, and Manchester. After having edged Indiana State, 4-3, in their next meet, they suffered their initial loss in a return match with the Sycamores, 3-4. They immediately broke back in the win column by taking Illinois Normal at Bloomington, 5-4.

Then with the Indiana Conference hanging in the balance they engaged DePauw on the local courts. Walsh and Parker won their sets to give the Pumas an early lead, but the better balanced DePauw team rallied to sweep the match, 2-5.

With the regular schedule having been completed Parker and Walsh entered in the doubles matches in the State Meet at Earlham. They won their first round but lost in the second frame of the tournament competition.

Two Meets Comprised Track Season for St. Joe

St. Joe thinclads appeared in two triangular meets during their short season. Under the direction of Coach Bro. Henry Kosalko the Puma tracksters placed second and third respectively, but in both meets compiled a commendable number of points.

In their opener the Pumas traveled to Greencastle, Indiana, where they engaged in a meet with DePauw and Rose Poly. St. Joe tallied 47 points in the meet with five firsts and four seconds. DePauw won the affair with 57 while Rose Poly collected 52 points. Bob Sherman, Jack Ford, Jim Shields, and Lou Yugovich captured the first places for the Pumas.

At Indianapolis the Pumas tangled with Rose Poly and Indiana Central. The Terre Haute representative scored 80 points to win the meet while the Pumas tallied 63½. Indiana Central trailed with 23. Lou Yugovich and Chester Skrabacz won the only two firsts for St. Joe but the squad tallied eight seconds. Shaw, Ford, Wisniewski, Shields, Cavey, Bladel, and the Pumas' mile relay team of O'Donnell, Shaw, Reinman and Wisniewski were the second place winners in their respective fields.

At the Little State Meet where the Indiana Conference members held their annual fieldday, Bob Sherman captured third place in three events, ¼, ½, and mile. Lou Yugovich placed fourth in the shot-put event.

Spacious Fieldhouse was placed at the disposal of the Fitness Program. Large classes could be held simultaneously and a number of contests.

College Goes on Basis of Compulsory Fitness

With the country engaged in war and the need of better conditioned men, St. Joe did its part by introducing a Physical Fitness Program which was compulsory for all students.

Under the guidance of the Coaching Staff of Mr. Dienhart, Mr. Scharf, and Bro. Henry Kosalko, students attended classes two hours weekly. At the start calisthenics and the fundamentals of military drill were the principal activities. Every class had its individual games and contests to arouse the competitive spirit of young men.

Weather permitting, classes were held outside. More drilling became the prominent factor, but every class continued to devote time to competition, both individual and team.

Turner Hall was equipped with a new set of weights and the students were urged to make use of the "muscle building" equipment in their leisure time.

The results were shown in a better conditioned, healthier student body, ready for its entrance into the armed services of its country.

Intramural Program Boasts Many Enthusiasists

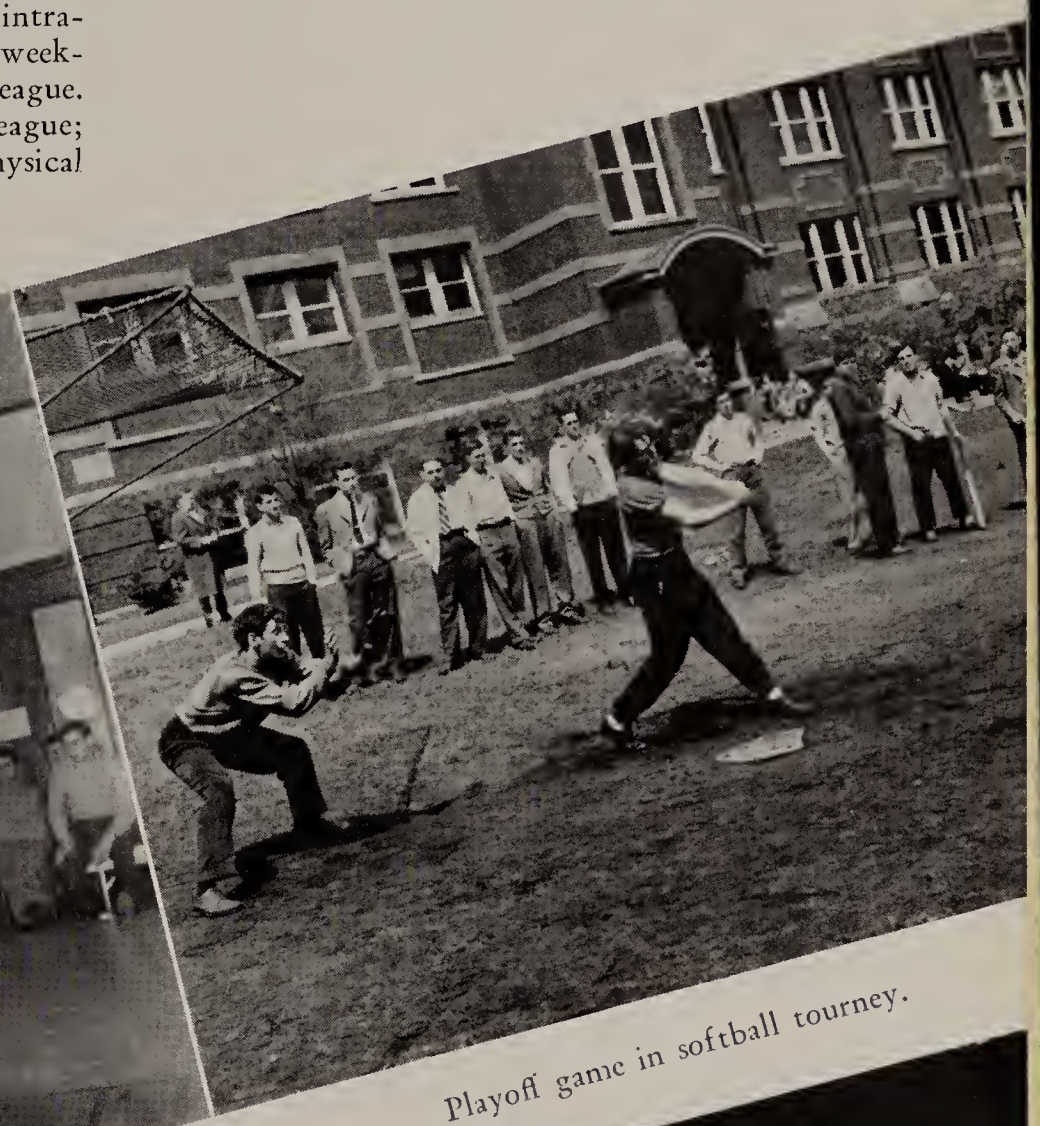

Intramurals reached a new peak during the 1942-1943 scholastic year. In the fall touch football and softball were the sports to which the organized program was devoted. Xavier Hall was once again the undisputed champions of the inter-hall touch football league.

Basketball and bowling were the next sports to appear on the programs. The cagers had both intramural and inter-hall organizations. Bowlers held weekly matches in Rensselaer with an eight team league.

The spring will bring another softball league; probably in conjunction with the Compulsory Physical Fitness Program.

How He Used His Sparetime

Eventually several of the many clubs and organized societies existing on the campus attracted the attention of "Little Joe". Realizing the opportunities these extra-curricular activities provide for recreation and for both social and cultural development, he earnestly sought active membership in these organizations. In accepting the responsibilities involved, he thereby manifested his initiative and his capacities for leadership. Thus his leisure time was profitably spent in the pursuance of his favorite interests, hobbies, and pastimes.

The Two Campus Religious Societies

The local unit of the Holy Name Society has essentially the same purpose as the original Society existing throughout the world. The veneration of the Holy Name of Jesus is its chief object. Through this Society special devotions are held in the College Chapel the second Sunday of each month at which the Holy Name Pledge is recited in unison by all the students.

Likewise, all students are urged to enroll in the Archconfraternity of the Precious Blood which aims to stimulate devotion to the Precious Blood of Jesus by stressing the treasure of extraordinary graces and privileges membership involves. Those enrolled in this Archconfraternity are pledged to say the Seven Offerings each day in private devotion.

Aiding the Cause of Catholic Missions

Members operate the Mission Store located in Main floor of Gasper Hall. Here the students may purchase religious articles of all kinds.

The Dwenger Mission Unit of St. Joseph's is affiliated with the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade and has its aim in common with that organization. Present membership in this Society is limited to the pre-philosophy students of the College department.

During the past year this Unit has been active in collecting discarded clothes, old newspapers and stamps; all of which are sent to our home and foreign missions. At the meetings of the organization this year special surveys were made of the work of the rural and foreign missions. This Society likewise operates the religious goods store on the campus for mission interests.

Named in honor of the Most Rev. Bishop Dwenger, C.PP.S., D.D., second Bishop of the Diocese of Fort Wayne, this Unit is effectively carrying out the goals it has set for itself in the work of Catholic Action.

One of the more active organizations on the campus is the Sanguinist Club for Catholic Action. Formed to stress Catholic ideals among the students, the group has been highly successful in carrying out its work.

Each student on the campus is kept informed on Catholic affairs by the religious bulletin published bi-monthly by the group.

Meeting every other week, the club converses on many interesting subjects. One of the topics which they discussed thoroughly this year was The Papal Encyclicals.

During the year a Tridium for the men of the Alumni in the Armed services of our country was sponsored by the members. They also held a special observance during February for "Catholic Press Month". Miss Eileen O'Hayer, associate editor of Extension magazine, gave a lecture on journalism as part of the Sanguinist Club's observance of the month.

Membership in the organization is open to all students of the College who are interested in the furtherance of Catholic Action.

Student Governing Body on Campus

The student body is represented in all discussions with the faculty by the member of the Student Council. Co-operating with the President and the Dean of Students, the Council strives to better the campus life of the boarding students.

Suggestions are made to the members of the Council and discussed at the regular meetings. The Council determines whether or not certain items are to brought to the attention of the Board of Administration. Two members from each class comprise the Council. A president and a councilman-at-large are the only two officers of this body. Although the powers of the council are limited and are more advisory than mandatory, they have enabled the student body to have many extra-curricular activities.

The Council is a member of the National Federation of Catholic College Students.

Established for the benefit of those students majoring in either economics or accounting, the Commerce Club seeks to familiarize its members with the current practices, policies, and trends of the outside business world. The policy of the organization is to hold semi-monthly business meetings throughout the year. Interest in these sessions is maintained by round-table discussions on recent economic and monetary issues of commercial importance. To further its purpose the club endeavors to have guest speakers every month.

According to custom, the organization sponsors several social events annually. Many members may well recall the fond memories of last year's exchange of dinner-dance affairs with the young ladies from the College of St. Francis in Joliet, Illinois. The annual excursion to metropolitan business establishments and the yearly banquet in the spring have become additional features headlining the activities of the society.

Largest Organizations

Because of the war with its enforced gasoline and tire rationing, the group has been forced to curtail its social functions this year. Moreover, the drain upon the club's membership by the armed forces has lent no assistance to this cause. In March, however, the society journeyed to Chicago to visit the Museum of Science and Industry. As an innovation this year, the organization accepted the invitation of the Sanguinist Club to have the two groups meet jointly to hear the Rev. Cletus Dirksen, C.P.P.S., discuss the Papal Encyclicals.

Key awards, usually presented at the banquet, have already been presented to several deserving members who have entered the military services. Arrangements have been completed whereby the remaining members, prior to their departure, may merit these coveted mementos.

History of Year Recorded by Phase

This, the third issue of Phase, was made possible, mainly, through the efforts of the faculty advisor, Reverend Henry A. Lucks, C.PP.S., Ph.D.

The belief that an annual is a worthy, an essential part of any extra-curricula activity entailing student publications was a paramount factor in favor of continued publication, despite the rising costs of such an undertaking.

Last year's annual received First Class Honor Rating from the NATIONAL SCHOLASTIC PRESS ASSOCIATION, of which Phase is a member. The staff of 1942 left an enviable record for their successors.

The effect of the work of this year's staff will, of course, be measured by the criticism of the individual reader.

The war and graduation raised havoc with the members of the staff of the annual. That this year's Phase was published is, indeed, a tribute to the hard work of an inexperienced group of students.

Presenting the News of the Campus

Out of the conveniently located office comes each week's paper, the result of time and effort on the part of all the staff.

Stuff, the campus newspaper, appears every Wednesday evening of the school year, giving to the students the news of the college affairs. Not only does it present campus happenings but it also affords the staff writers some practical experience in Journalism. Every student of the college department is eligible to write for Stuff.

The paper begins to take shape every Friday evening when the staff meets to receive assignments and to discuss new topics for the coming issue. The paper is divided into three different sections. The first and fourth pages of the tabloid contain the general news of the campus. The second page is devoted to editorials, feature columns and cartoons. The third page is given over to sports, which play a leading role in the campus life of every student at school.

Stuff has been highly rated among papers of colleges and universities of America. It has received honors from several press associations and is at present a member of the National Catholic Press Association.

The moderator of the paper by his knowledge of newspaper work has been a great help in maintaining the standard of each issue,

Campus Quarterly Stimulates Creative Writing

To further creative writing among the student body is the aim and purpose of the publication, Measure. It originally appeared quarterly but due to the national emergency it was published only once a semester. The periodical is entirely composed by the students. Any member of the college who has a talent for writing is urged to take part in the publishing of the book.

Originality - Exactness - Clearness are the three points stressed by the moderator who acts as a guide in the construction of all articles submitted for publication.

This year under the editorship of Francis L. Kinney, Measure has embraced a variety of literary forms including the short story, poetry, sketches, essays, book reviews, and biography.

Measure since its beginning in 1937 has received the annual All-Catholic rating. It maintains an extensive exchange list which not only affords an opportunity for comparison with other literary journals but also brings about reciprocation of ideas among the Catholic college writers of the nation.

Church Music at Its Best

Catholic Church music at its best is featured by the St. Joseph's College Choir. Composed of Precious Blood Seminarians who have completed special voice training, the choir makes a worthy contribution to the solemnity of the Divine Services at the College.

In addition to its fundamental purpose of supplying music for church services the choir has appeared in many concerts on and off the College campus.

Under the direction of Rev. Robert Koch, C.PP.S., the choir specializes in Gregorian Music, the rendition of the Vatican Chant, and a cappella compositions of both the new and old masters of music of the Catholic Church.

An enviable record has been maintained by the Choir over a long span of years. To keep this reputation for fine music intact, numerous practice sessions are necessary.

Prof. Paul C. Tonner serves as organist for the group.

The members of the College Choir are shown during the singing of the regular Sunday High Mass under the direction of Rev. Robert Koch, C.PP.S.

Musical Entertainment By the Glee Club

The College Glee Club under the direction of the Rev. Robert Koch, C.PP.S., is constantly striving for advancement of voice culture and appreciation of music of a more serious nature.

The Glee Club appears frequently on the campus throughout the school year. Two formal recitals are traditional events on the St. Joseph's activities calendar, a Christmas concert taking place just prior to the holiday vacation, and a program presented in the Spring.

In addition to group singing, individual vocal and instrumental solos, quartette singing and other special numbers are regular features of the Glee Club which has built up a following not only on the campus but in neighboring Rensselaer and other cities where it appeared before transportation difficulties made off-campus appearances impossible.

The Glee Club is a very serious project for its members, frequent rehearsals being held in the Music Department quarters in Science Hall.

Band Music for Student Functions

An important unit in the activity on the College campus is the band. Under the direction of Professor Paul Tonner, the band gives the musically talented opportunity to gain experience in ensemble work.

Besides its primary activity of training musicians, the band makes a generous contribution to the athletic program of the College. During all athletic events it furnishes entertainment for the spectators. The spirit of the student body is brightened by the well trained organization going through its many routines. In addition to these appearances the band is the backbone of impromptu pep-sessions, and send-offs for the Puma teams. Throughout the year it presents band concerts for the student body and members of St. Joseph's.

The band has spacious quarters in the north wing of Music Hall where the theory and practices are studied. It is closely allied with the other instrumental musical organization on the campus. Together they form the splendid results of the patience and work of the instructors and members.

Professor Paul Tonner, directs the College Orchestra in one of its frequent concerts presented to the student body.

Orchestra Instills Appreciation for Music

A well balanced orchestra is included in the Music Department of the College. Numerous courses in the theory of music are offered to its members, the orchestra itself furnishing the opportunity for a practical application of the fundamentals studied in the classroom.

Just as is the college band, the orchestra is very active in campus life. Many members partake in the organization of both units. The orchestra furnishes the music for all entertainment in the college theater. Cooperating with the Columbian Literary Society and the Curtain Club, the orchestra entertains during the intermissions of all dramas presented by the two societies. Two or three times a year it presents concerts either in the theater or on the band stand in the campus grounds.

Members of the orchestra find ample facilities in the sixteen practice studios of the Music Hall for becoming well-versed musically. Under experienced instruction they learn fundamental and advanced harmony, counterpoint, composition, orchestration, form and analysis, history and appreciation of music, and the technique of teaching music in secondary schools.

"Arsenic and Old Lace" Season's Main Performance

Currently celebrating its fiftieth anniversary is the Columbian Literary Society, oldest student organization on the campus. The C. L. S. was founded in 1892, just one year after St. Joseph's opened its doors to students. Today it functions much in the same manner as then, though the passing years have narrowed down the specific goals of the Society.

In recent years the trend of the C. L. S.'s activities has been away from diversified literary accomplishments to a more definite study of the theater. More definitely, the C. L. S. has become conscious of its position in the Catholic Theater. Studies of College theater work in the United States have been accomplished by means of questionnaires. Experimentation on new drama has blossomed forth in the work on translations of the plays of the Spanish writer Peman and the plays of Stanislaus Wyspianski. Within the last two years the Society has sponsored a drama clinic for the C. Y. O. groups of the Diocese of Fort Wayne, has offered the use of its convenient theater for the C. Y. O. play contests, and has cooperated with other dramatic organizations in producing plays.

The activities for the present scholastic year centered around the Golden Jubilee celebration. For this occasion the Columbians presented Mary of Scotland by Maxwell Anderson. A banquet honoring past moderators, past presidents, and others who have contributed to the success of the Society concluded the Jubilee Celebration on October 18, 1942. For the second play of this year the thespians produced the modern comedy, Arsenic and Old Lace.

Bottom, Right: Technical work connected with stage and theater is handled by students under moderator's guidance.

"Mary of Scotland" Huge Success

Besides this exterior display of activity, there is an inner life of the C. L. S. which benefits each member. The bi-weekly meetings are conducted strictly in accordance with parliamentary procedure. Each business meeting is followed by a private program. Members have the opportunity to do play directing, or other technical work connected with the stage and theater. All are welcomed and encouraged to assist in building stage sets, painting scenery or learning the correct manipulation of stage lighting. The well equipped stage and theater afford the student invaluable experience in actual stage management.

The C. L. S. has aided throughout its existence the development of the literary and histrionic powers of its members and drilled them in the practice of parliamentary law, besides working a marked effect in the building of their growing characters. That this ideal should result in some form of creative activity is not at all surprising, for it is founded upon the fundamental desire of all men to express themselves. The answer to this craving in the field of dramatics is the specific goal of the Columbian Literary Society.

Devoted to the Drama

The Curtain Club limits its membership to the ecclesiastical students of the College Department and alternates with the Columbian Literary Society in presenting the chief student entertainments of the school year. The purpose of the organization is like unto that of the C. L. S., namely, to offer opportunity for development in dramatic art and in debating. Besides its public productions, the Curtain Club also carries on a schedule of private programs in connection with its semi-monthly meetings. These programs provide each member an opportunity for public speaking and acting.

"Set That To Music", a play of modern college life, was the first production of the Curtain Club for this school year. Though differing in character from the C. L. S. productions this play proved highly successful.

Devoted to the growth in interest and enthusiasm for the cause of Catholic poetry, this Society has taken upon itself the task of furthering our cultural heritage in Catholic Literature. In addition, the members of the St. Joseph's unit are encouraged to submit their own work to the general assembly for constructive criticism.

At the bi-weekly meetings of the Society members have the opportunity to learn as much as possible of our Catholic poetry through studies of the lives and works of exponents in the field. Lectures by members of the faculty, round-table discussions and papers by the members all serve as part of a well-balanced program of activities.

Foremost Honorary Society

The Albertus Magnus Society is the first honor society on the campus of St. Joseph's. Founded in 1937, this Society has done much to promote an appreciation and understanding of the experimental sciences.

Membership in the Albertus Magnus is limited to those students majoring and minoring in the physical sciences and who have fulfilled the requirement of a high general average in their academic work.

During the past year the Society has concentrated most of its research and study to the problems of national defense. At each meeting a paper on some scientific topic is presented by one of the members. The activity of this Society has also been broadened by field trips, lectures by faculty members, science exhibits, and presentation of scientific moving pictures.

Thus, the organization delves into the fascinating world of the physical phenomena while preserving the Catholic principles established by its patron, St. Albert the Great, renowned scientist.

Although the Camera Club is the youngest organization on the campus, it has already shown marked influence upon campus activities. It strives to give its members a better conception of their hobby by affording them practical experience in every phase of photography from the taking of pictures to the completed print.

The bi-monthly meetings are frequently enlivened with addresses by guest speakers and round-table discussion of photographic topics. A spirit of competition and an incentive to delve more deeply into the technique of photography are instilled in the members by the club's policy of offering awards for the best photographs.

Among the activities of the past year was a camera field trip ending in a picnic and a contest in connection with Phase for the best photographs of campus scenery.

At the regular meetings, pictures are discussed "pro and con". Below: Members look over entries and prize winners in season's contest.

Year's Biggest Social Event

Only St. Joe men who have won major awards for varsity competition are eligible for membership in the Monogram Club. This naturally hinders the size of the organization, but in proportion it is one of the leading clubs on the Collegeville campus.

Annually the Monogram Club sponsors the Homecoming Dance which is the climax to a gala week-end. This is a get together of alumni and undergrads who are celebrating the football victory of that great day.

Another feature of the Monogram program is the annual Spring Formal. Shortly after the commencement of the second semester the members meet and plan for this popular affair. In past years Phil Levant, Art Kassel, and Eddy Howard were the bands presented to the dancers.

Freshmen meet the athletes early in the fall semester and are requested to purchase the "Green Caps" which are required apparel for all newcomers until the Homecoming celebration.

Thus the Monogram organization is an important cog in the social life of all the St. Joe students.

Easily the season's outstanding event is the Monogram Spring Formal. Pictured below is the end of the "grand march", traditional part of each dance.

Largest Social Club on Campus

Although the Raleigh Smoking Club is one of the oldest campus organizations, having been an integral part of St. Joseph's student life for over forty-five years, it can also boast of a progressive program which in many ways makes it the "newest" organization on the campus.

Its club rooms, located in the north wing of Science Hall, provide recreation, relaxation, and opportunity for association among fellow members. The upper club rooms are equipped with facilities for card playing, radioing, and lounging. The lower room, illuminated by fluorescent lights, houses the pool and ping-pong tables. Its walls were redecorated this year.

A special fund is maintained by the club to buy subscriptions to a large selection of newspapers and magazines chosen by the club members.

The Raleigh Club freshman initiation was not as lengthy as usual this year; nevertheless, its cleverness and intensity made it worthy of comparison with the best efforts of Raleigh men of previous years. This fact can be readily verified by the freshmen or "rookies" who, among other things, point to the traditional "dunking" session in the campus pond.

The Raleigh Club is prominent as a leader in campus social activity. The Homecoming bon-fire celebration and annual pep session held in front of the Jasper County Court House were notable successes this year. However, the annual Valentine Day dance, always an outstanding social event of the year, had to be cancelled because of transportation complications due to the war.

The Raleigh Smoking Club is, then, almost as old as St. Joseph's itself. Its contribution to college life cannot be confined to mere printed words, for its contribution is more than just material. The Raleigh Club is bound intrinsically with those elements that make up "the St. Joe spirit".

Friends and Alumni Cooperated

As "Little Joe" progressed through his year of college life he began to realize how grateful he soon would become to the countless number of friends, patrons, and alumni of St. Joseph's for helping to make the year a memorable one. Had it not been for these beloved benefactors of the school, this quasi-biographical account of his life might never have been published for his host of interested followers. To them he expresses his profoundest gratitude.
